Hope For Rescue of Submarine Crew Given Up Japan Pledges Safety For the International Section of Shanghai

Oil Continues to Come to Surface of Sea Southwest of Portland, But Submarine M-2 Not Yet Caught by Drag Lines of Fleet; Admiralty Says There Remains No Hope of Rescue of Any of Sixty Men

London, Jan. 29. — The Admiralty announced this morning that in view of a report received from the rear admiral in charge of submarines, it was no longer possible to hope for the rescue of any of the sixty officers and men who were aboard the submarine M-2 when it sank off Portland and that their deaths must now be presumed.

The information received from the rear-admiral was as follows: "The obstruction discovered six miles south and thirty degrees west of Portland Bill is an old wreck. We shall sweep in the vicinity of the wreck which brought up a pair of submarine hand flags in a canvas case. The general search will continue. We have no hope now of saving life."

Distressed wives and relatives of the men, groups of whom had been waiting tearfully but hopefully at the gates of the dockyard at Portland since the search began, lost their last crumb of comfort with the Admiralty's announcement.

OIL ON SURFACE
To-day large quantities of oil bubbled up to the surface in West Bay, not far from where oil patches were discovered yesterday. The sea was comparatively calm and the salvage flotilla centred about the oil patch, but by midday they had not succeeded in locating its source.

DIVERS RISK LIVES
Desperate efforts were made yesterday evening to reach what was thought to be the submarine, although even then the spark of hope was feeble, and almost out. Divers risked their lives time after time in the stormy sea to reach the bottom of the eighteen-fathom area in the Channel where the submarine was believed to be lying. When night fell and the sea grew more and more rough, they were forced to abandon the effort, however, and to come ashore for a few hours' rest.

The search was all the more feverish because everybody knew there was a moment when the submarine might be seen, and if the men had managed to cling to life that long on the slender supply of oxygen in the submarine, they could certainly not last much longer.

EARTH TREMORS FOR FIVE HOURS

Severe Earthquake Lasted Over Five Hours; Recorded in Number of Places

A very severe earthquake began, according to the seismograph at Gonzales Observatory, at 5.54 o'clock this morning and continued for over five hours. F. Napier Denison, superintendent at the observatory, estimated the centre of the disturbance at 6,300 miles off in an east-west direction.

Passadena, Calif., Jan. 29. — A severe earthquake of more than one hour duration, estimated to have taken place 6,000 miles northwest of here, was recorded on the Carnegie Institution of Washington seismograph early today. The shock started at 5.45 a.m. and the instrument showed.

Denver, Colo., Jan. 29. — A severe earthquake of fifty minutes' duration was registered on the seismograph at Regis College here early today.

Rev. Father A. Forsyth, seismologist, described the disturbance as "probably very destructive," and of second or third degree intensity.

The quake began at 7.29 a.m. (M.S.T.). Father Forsyth said he could not determine the direction of the disturbance, but estimated the centre to be 3,000 to 4,000 miles from Denver.

ISLAND TIMBER FOR BRITAIN SPECIALLY CUT

Hillcrest Lumber Company Cuts Timber to Ordered Size; Sample Shipment Ready

Island Boasts Modern Mill and Only One of Its Kind in British Columbia

The first shipment of specially cut Vancouver Island timber for the United Kingdom will be shipped from Chemainus early next week aboard the motorship Beljeane, it was announced this morning by Colonel J. Duff, president of the Hillcrest Lumber Company, which firm is handling the export. Already more shipments are on order and it is hoped to develop this branch of the British Columbia lumber trade considerably during the next few years.

C. Stone, president of the Hillcrest Lumber Company of Duncan, made a visit to Great Britain about a year ago and found that the purchasers of lumber there were dissatisfied with the British Columbia lumber because it was cut all one size and had to go to Europe to be re-cut.

COUNCIL TALKS RESUMPTION OF RELIEF WORK

Finance Committee Recommends Men Be Put to Work on Waterworks System

Resumption of relief work for married men with a view to completing the programme of improvements to the waterworks system of the city is under debate by the public works committee of the City Council this afternoon on a recommendation drawn up by the finance committee at a special meeting this morning.

After a two-hour discussion on the matter the finance committee, headed by Alderman P. R. Brown, decided to recommend to the public works body, which is composed of the full council, that the waterworks improvement be continued to completion by the employment of 300 men on alternative shifts.

If the public works committee accepts the recommendation the work will be resumed immediately, it is understood, although the number of men employed will be on a different basis than formerly.

The city has applied, with other municipalities, to the Dominion Government for financial aid in completing its relief programme, but nothing definite has been received in reply. It was necessary, however, to take steps for the finishing of the present task, which involved the opening of ditches for laying pipe. The city was also committed to the purchase of the pipe on the belief that the governments would give full support for the programme.

Bail For Four Held in Honolulu

Honolulu, Jan. 29. — Mrs. Granville Fortescue and three navy men accused of lynching a young native were temporarily turned over to the custody of the Honolulu police to-day pending an exchange of messages with Washington relative to fixing their bonds on a second degree murder charge.

Japanese Planes Share In Attack On Shanghai

Dispatches to-day report some of the fires which swept the Chapel section of Shanghai were caused by bombs dropped from Japanese planes which flew over the Chinese section of the city at more or less regular intervals. The pictures above give glimpses of Japanese planes. Bombs were being taken aboard when the picture at the right was taken. On a cold morning in Manchuria Japanese airmen were boiling water to be used in starting planes' motors when the picture at the left was taken.

Canadian Dollar's Integrity Involved In Bond Payments

Insistence on Coupon Payments in U.S. Funds Where Not Specifically Called for Amounts to Cutting Dominion Money 20 Per Cent Is Opinion Advanced; No Moral or Legal Responsibility to Meet All Payments in New York; Saanich Would Make Shipment of Two-dollar Dominion Notes

"The Corporation of the City of Victoria hereby promises to pay to the holder of this debenture the sum of one thousand dollars ($1,000) lawful money of the Dominion of Canada, or its sterling equivalent, at the rate of $4.85 to the one pound sterling, on the ninth day of July, 1937, at the office of the Bank of British North America (now the Bank of Montreal), either at Victoria, aforesaid; Montreal, Canada; London, England; or New York, U.S.A. This debenture shall bear interest at the rate of 4 per centum per annum, from the day of the date hereof, payable half-yearly at the Bank of British North America, at any of the places aforesaid, on the ninth day of January and the ninth day of July in each year until repayment of the principal sum. A coupon is hereto attached for each instalment of interest to accrue hereon, and the said interest shall be paid only on presentation and surrender of such coupon to the Bank of British North America, at any of the places aforesaid, or upon satisfactory proof of ownership in case of loss."

MEIGHEN SOON TO BE NAMED SENATE MEMBER

Expected to Lead Conservatives in Second Chamber at Coming Session

Ottawa, Jan. 29. — Appointment of Hon. Arthur Meighen to the Senate and his selection as government party leader in the upper chamber is now regarded as practically certain. It is understood the appointment will be announced very soon.

His selection as leader of the government forces in the Senate is expected to follow at a Conservative caucus slated for the opening day of Parliament.

Hon. W. B. Willoughby of Moose Jaw, has been government party leader since 1929, is resigning the leadership.

Mr. Meighen has a record as a keen parliamentary debater. Both during his period as a minister under Sir Robert Borden, as Prime Minister and as leader of the opposition, Mr. Meighen took a leading part in Commons discussions. He has had extensive political experience both in and out of Parliament.

South African Cabinet Ministers May Cut Salaries

Capetown, South Africa, Jan. 29. — Strong rumors were heard in the lobbies of the Legislative Assembly to-day that the salaries of cabinet ministers, senators and members of the assembly would be reduced by 15 per cent. It was believed such reductions would be a temporary measure until the financial position of the country shows improvement.

LINDSAY SEES STIMSON TWICE DURING DAY

Washington, Jan. 29. — So foreboding was the Shanghai fighting considered that Ambassador Lindsay saw the Secretary of State twice today on behalf of Great Britain. After talking to Secretary of State Stimson the expected information on the London representations to Japan, he returned the afternoon with a second memorandum, but its contents were not disclosed.

FOUR CONVICTS SENT BACK FOR FULL TERMS

W. Bagley, Escaped Prisoner, Fails to Answer When Name Called For Appeal

Serge Who Broke Jail With Him Loses His Appeal; Titmuss Affidavits Fail

Four prisoners who appealed to the Court of Appeal to-day were ordered back to Oakalla jail and the penitentiary by the Justices to serve out their full terms.

William Bagley, who escaped from Oakalla, also had his name down on the list for appeal against the long sentence with lashes passed upon him for the armed burglary at the Harrison Hot Springs Hotel, but he did not appear.

A. M. Johnson, K.C., chief prosecuting attorney, told the court, when Bagley's case was called, that he had escaped from custody.

The chief justice called Court Crier William Jones and ordered him to go outside and call William Bagley's name three times.

The court shouted "William Bagley." "He does not answer, my lords," the crier announced when he returned to the court.

"As Bagley does not answer, I ask the court to dismiss his appeal," said the prosecutor.

The chief justice ordered this done. SORGE MAKES NO HEADWAY

Frank Sorge, alias Davis, who was one of those in the sensational escape from Oakalla a month ago, but was caught, did appear, but did not make any headway with his case.

"I want to appeal against my sentence as I think it is too severe," said Sorge. He is to serve two terms of four years each for armed burglary and will be liable for another term for his jail-breaking.

"You cannot appeal against that," said the chief justice.

"I have nothing to say against the conviction, only that the term is too long," said Sorge. "I did not have a chance to say anything when I was sentenced by Judge Coyle."

"It is not a question of giving you a chance," said the chief justice. "The only question could be whether you are a danger to the public."

AMBASSADORS MAY HASTEN TO SHANGHAI

League Council's Plan Said to Call For Report at Earliest Possible Time

Yen Asks League to Act Under Articles 10 and 15, to End Japanese Attack

Geneva, Jan. 29. — The twelve neutral members of the League of Nations Council were reliably reported to-day to have proposed that the ambassadors of the great powers at Tokyo assemble quickly in Shanghai to investigate the situation there and report to the League.

W. W. Yen, Chinese spokesman at the League Council, invoked articles 10 and 15 of the League covenant before the Council to-day, calling for drastic measures to protect the integrity of China.

The new Chinese appeal, switching the standpoint from a milder article of the treaty, was made in a letter to Sir Eric Drummond, secretary-general.

Mr. Yen said he had taken the action on instructions from his government at Nanking.

Mr. Yen made the decision after learning the Japanese had occupied the city of Shanghai, China's appeal heretofore had been based on the less drastic article 11 of the covenant.

OTHER CALLS
In calling on the League to give effect to the guarantees and procedure provided in articles 10 and 15, China reserved the right to invoke any and all other articles which might be warranted by developments in China, Mr. Yen said.

He indicated he had had orders for some time to extend the appeal to these two articles if the events in the east should reach a certain stage.

INDEPENDENCE PLEDGE
Article 10 of the League covenant pledges members to respect and preserve the territorial integrity and political independence of any member state against external aggression. Thus it embodies and extends the pledge in the first article of the Nine-power Treaty.

Article 15 is based on the hypothesis of a dispute "likely to lead to a rupture," which has not been submitted to arbitration or judicial settlement. Under this article the Council seeks a settlement by unanimous vote of all except the parties to the dispute.

Shanghai (4.15 a.m.) Saturday, Jan. 30. — Japanese soldiers invaded the quarters of the American Southern Methodist Mission here this morning, demolishing the furnishings.

U.S. CRUISER HELD READY
Washington, Jan. 29. — The United States cruiser Houston, flagship of Admiral Taylor, commander-in-chief of the Asiatic fleet, has been ordered to postpone a scheduled drydocking at Manila in view of the tense Far Eastern situation.

The request that Japan take no action inside the settlement leaves just as it was the whole question of what is taking place in the territory outside. The fact that British troops had to deal with a somewhat similarly confused situation at Shanghai in 1927 complicates the position further and adds to its difficulty as an international problem.

JAPAN'S REPLY
Further British action will be delayed until a reply is received to the inquiry as to Japan's version of just what happened in Shanghai. Meantime officials here consider the defence forces now at Shanghai are sufficient to deal with the situation.

The cabinet met this morning, but there was no indication that things had reached such a stage that Premier MacDonald need return from a visit to Edinburgh before to-morrow night. In his absence Rt. Hon. Stanley Baldwin has assumed general direction of the cabinet business.

AMBASSADORS MAY HASTEN TO SHANGHAI

Washington, Jan. 29. — On representations from the British and United States Governments, Japan has given assurances foreign rights in the International Settlement at Shanghai will be respected.

Secretary of State Stimson made the announcement to-day a short while after meeting with President Hoover and the Cabinet in a prolonged session.

His formal statement was as follows: "Several days ago, when the situation first became acute, I consulted with the British Ambassador in regard to the crisis at Shanghai and asked him to confer with his government."

"I discussed with him the making of representations to Japan and suggested that in view of the efficient police and other sources of protection already available in the International Settlement, there should be no military occupation of that settlement by Japan unless the municipal force became clearly inadequate to protect life and property."

On Wednesday our government made such a communication to Japan and received an answer assuring this government that international rights and interests in Shanghai would not be interfered with.

BRITISH REPRESENTATIONS
"I learned this morning from the British Ambassador that his government had made the same suggestions to the Japanese that were conveyed by ourselves."

"An informal communication such as we made to the British has been made to the French and Italian governments."

"No other proposals for international action have been made by the American government."

VIETNAM DIFFER
It seemed evident a lack of unanimity as to the United States course had cropped out at the cabinet meeting, but the various department heads kept what had happened to themselves.

BRITISH ACTION
London, Jan. 29. — Great Britain and the United States will take joint action in dealing with the Chinese crisis, it was announced in Downing Street to-day.

The British Government has asked the Japanese Government to take no action inside the International Settlement at Shanghai without prior consultation with the other governments concerned.

Great Britain informed the United States of this action and invited Washington to take a similar step in Tokyo in reply to British conversations with Henry L. Stimson, Secretary of State.

1927 EVENTS RECALLED
The fact that Britain had made direct representations to Tokyo and invited Washington to do the same was expected to add materially to the security of Shanghai's International Settlement.

The request that Japan take no action inside the settlement leaves just as it was the whole question of what is taking place in the territory outside. The fact that British troops had to deal with a somewhat similarly confused situation at Shanghai in 1927 complicates the position further and adds to its difficulty as an international problem.

JAPAN'S REPLY
Further British action will be delayed until a reply is received to the inquiry as to Japan's version of just what happened in Shanghai. Meantime officials here consider the defence forces now at Shanghai are sufficient to deal with the situation.

The cabinet met this morning, but there was no indication that things had reached such a stage that Premier MacDonald need return from a visit to Edinburgh before to-morrow night. In his absence Rt. Hon. Stanley Baldwin has assumed general direction of the cabinet business.

this bond or other bonds of a similar nature calling for payment in U.S. funds. The bond-stating rate is established at $4.90 2-3 for English investors, and payment is made at that rate. There is no more reason why U.S. holders of any of these bonds should enjoy a premium than there is for the city to ignore the rate established for the pound sterling and pay at the devalued rate.

the pound sterling and pay at the devalued rate.

It is also pointed out that most of the bonds of the city are held in Canada. While it is impossible to give the exact percentage of the bonds held in the United States, it is estimated that it is below 10 per cent. To force payment in United States funds would probably mean the Canadian holders would lose their premiums in the United States instead of Canada to obtain advantage of the exchange premium.

SAANICH VIEW
When the matter was discussed at a meeting of the Saanich Council yesterday evening the suggestion was offered that demands for payment of coupons in New York could be met by a shipment of Dominion two dollar bills. If such payment was insisted upon they were prepared to express a value of the Canadian bills to New York.

All Saanich bonds are insured as "payable in lawful money of Canada," payment being authorized at New York, among other financial centres, to save bondholders the expense of collection. The Saanich Council yesterday evening asked for information regarding the exchange situation, and was informed that coupon holders unable to secure payment in United States funds had apparently complained to officials at the Parliament Buildings.

A provincial government official had telephoned the municipal treasurer that Saanich issues were payable in gold, Canada being on a gold basis, and provincial credit being involved by reason of government approval having been accorded the issues.

The municipal treasurer accepted the viewpoint as correct, pointed out that the Dominion two-dollar bills were there for gold currency, and that payment in such Dominion notes would be in full compliance. The municipality was prepared to pay all necessary express charges to make that an ample supply of Canadian government notes would be on hand in New York for redemption of all coupons.

Nothing further had been heard in regard to the matter.

League Society Urged As Propaganda Check

Canadian Press
Vancouver, Jan. 29.—Manufacturers of arms were working night and day to promote misunderstandings among nations, and only in such organizations as the League of Nations Society could such sinister propaganda be fought, declared Col. T. A. Hiam, president of the Vancouver branch of the League of Nations Society, addressing members at their annual meeting here yesterday evening.

HARBIN IS NEW NINE ARE SLAIN

SOVIET-JAPAN AT THEIR HOME DANGER POINT IN MANITOBA
Russians Block Use of Railway By Troops; Japanese Division Ordered There

Associated Press
Tokio, Jan. 29.—A new possibility of direct conflict between Soviet Russia and Japan threatened to-night when the Bango-News Agency reported from Mukden, Manchuria, that Gen. Jiro Tamon, leader of the Japanese Manchurian campaign, had been ordered to take a division of troops to Harbin, where earlier to-day a Russian railway official had blocked transport of Japanese troops over the Chinese Eastern Railway.

At the same time the Japanese Government planned to hold officials of the Russian-owned Chinese Eastern Railway accountable for any delay in the arrival of Japanese reinforcements at Harbin, where a severe battle has been in progress for three days between Chinese factions.

The Chinese Eastern Railway is jointly owned by Russia and China. Hsi Hsia, governor of Kirin province, has been fighting a force led by Ting Chao, commander of the Japanese guards. Japan attempted to send a body of troops to Harbin, to protect its citizens there, the government said.

ORDERS FROM MOSCOW
M. Kuznetsov, Russian manager of the railway, forbade transport of troops over the line, on orders from the Russian Government at Moscow. M. Kuznetsov pointed out Russia had refused to transport Chinese troops southward at the time the Japanese invaded the Nonni River bridge area near Taitshih, and that Japan had suggested neutrality be observed.

He said it was authoritative that the Japanese Government would hold officials of the railway responsible for any delay in the troop movement to Harbin and the accountability would be extended to any damages to Japanese subjects as a result of the fighting in and around the city.

BRIDGE DESTROYED
Japanese Consul-General Chashi at Harbin reported the Russian officials had acted on Moscow instructions and Hsi Hsia reported in effect that the board of directors of the railway, which is partly Chinese and partly Russian, had ordered destruction of a bridge at Sungari, which delayed the troop movements a day or two.

The consul-general said the bridge had been dynamited and the Japanese soldiers compelled to abandon their trains south of Sungari, but that they had crossed the river on the ice and started marching on foot for Harbin.

Other reports, however, placed the blame for these delays on Ting Chao's troops.

BRITISH PAPERS SAY SHANGHAI EVENTS MENACE

Canadian Press

London, Jan. 29.—A note of anxiety over the effect of the Japanese action on the Shanghai situation was shown in London papers to-day.

The Times said that, admitting Japan had serious provocation from China, the situation at Shanghai had grown delicate, and the "reasonable" of the powers interested in the International Settlement there will be vastly increased by the drastic action of the Japanese.

The Daily Telegraph, although admitting there was justice in Japan's general position in regard to China, said:

"Admiral Shirogawa's action has startled European opinion. Even those who admit the equity of Japan's activity in Manchuria cannot regard without misgiving this use of force in Shanghai."

The News-Chronicle and The Herald bitterly attacked the action at Shanghai.

The Daily Mail, however, wholly defended the Japanese move.

Ottawa Awaits Shanghai Report On Canadians

Canadian Press

Ottawa, Jan. 29.—For many years Canada has maintained a trade commissioner in Shanghai, now the centre of Japanese activities in the Far East. At present the commissioner is L. M. McGraw, and he has with him as assistant trade commissioner, D. A. Macdonald. Information obtained here indicates the staff in the office of the trade commissioner is largely Chinese.

Trade Commissioner McGraw recently used his good offices in an effort to secure the return to Canada of a number of aviators who had gone to China under the false impression they could obtain remunerative employment with the Chinese army.

It is probable also that there are a number of Canadian missionaries in the vicinity of Shanghai, but no definite word on this point is available.

The Department of Immigration, which maintains an agent at Hongkong, does not do so at Shanghai. The Canadian Government is following events at Shanghai, but no action is contemplated at present as far as can be ascertained.

BOMBAY POLICE FIRE ON MOBS AND WOUND 160

Also Use Clubs to Break Up Crowds of Rioting Nationalists

Canadian Press
Bombay, Jan. 29.—One hundred and sixty persons were wounded to-day when police fired on and clubbed Nationalist crowds in a series of riots.

The situation still was out of control to-night.

Yesterday evening Nationalists attacked police in the city with fire stones and clubs, while the government adopted whipping as a check on the activities of juvenile disturbers. A Hindu youth, charged with picketing a bank, was sentenced to be whipped.

The Nationalists began their demonstrations yesterday evening by lighting bonfires as fast as the police put them out, shouting anti-government slogans and stoning foreign automobiles.

Three Nationalists were killed at Allahabad yesterday when police were forced to fire on a mob after the arrest of several Nationalist pickets.

SHANGHAI RADIO IS INTERRUPTED

Canadian Press

Shanghai, Jan. 29.—A Chinese wireless station which normally communicates directly with Europe and the United States, went out of commission to-day when the control lines from the Shanghai International Settlement through the Chinese district were destroyed. United States engineers set up a temporary circuit by way of Manila and Java.

through various operations in England and Scotland before it was ready for use. Mr. Stone, upon his return, stated that if the British Columbia export of lumber was to continue to the United Kingdom the exporters out here would have to cater to the market and the lumber companies in the Pacific states.

NEW MILL INSTALLED

As a result of this a Swedish gang mill was installed at the Hillcrest plant just outside Dunsmuir. It has received several tests and is found to be satisfactory in every way. It cuts the lumber the size ordered by the buyer and is ready for use upon arrival. It is also kiln dried. The Beljeanne will take out about 50,000 feet from Champlain next week. This is only a sample shipment and its arrival in London is being eagerly awaited as the importers there are greatly interested in the new mill on Vancouver Island.

placed their losses at 300 killed and wounded. The Japanese said they had lost only a handful.

One shell fell in the International Settlement, but nobody was hurt and the damage was slight.

The Chinese commander asked for reinforcements and the Japanese sent a party to reinforce the Chinese.

RAILWAY CUT

Shanghai, Jan. 29.—This afternoon Japanese planes bombed a stretch of track on the Shanghai-Nanking railway, bottling up a Chinese armored train.

The break severed railway communication with Nanking and presumably cut off all the telegraph and telephone communication. Before the wires went down there was word from Nanking that additional Chinese troops were on the way to Shanghai.

The Japanese military attaches recommended Tokyo also send reinforcements.

300 CASUALTIES

Nanking, Jan. 29.—The government was informed by its commander at Shanghai to-day that Chinese losses in the fighting there totaled 300 killed and wounded up to this afternoon. He said the Chinese had captured four Japanese armored cars in the Chapei district.

NO TRUCE OBSERVED
Shanghai, Jan. 29.—Japanese authorities denied to-night reports they had signed a truce with the Chinese.

At 11:30 p.m., more than two hours after the reports said the armistice was to have gone into effect, fighting was still going on.

At that time a number of Chinese soldiers denied to-night reports they had signed a truce with the Chinese.

The huge bombs the planes dropped with clock-like regularity sent up eruptions to a height of at least 150 feet. The sky was partly obscured by clouds of dust and smoke as the planes swooped down through them.

The terrified people were faced with a dilemma of terror. They had the choice of staying in their huts and being burned to death or fleeing into the open to be shot or torn to pieces by bursting bombs.

BIG PLANT DESTROYED
The printing plant of the Commercial Press, reputed to be the largest in the world, was destroyed. It turned out an enormous number of English language books, newspapers and magazines and millions of copies of pamphlets and books in Chinese.

Reliable reports this afternoon said 3,000 additional Japanese troops were on the way to reinforce the 2,000 marines then in Chapei.

Following the bomb which fell into the settlement about 2 p.m., another landed on the edge of the district. In the residential area where many foreigners live. This immediately began evacuating their homes and moving into the settlement for protection.

BRITISH CRUISER SENT
Batavia, Java, Jan. 29.—The British cruiser Kent was ordered to-night to leave for China to-morrow.

FROM JAPAN
Tokio, Jan. 29.—The Navy Department to-day ordered the two aircraft carriers Kaga and Hoshio, three additional cruisers and a flotilla of destroyers to the Sasebo naval base to start immediately for Shanghai.

"ENORMOUS" SLAUGHTER
Shanghai, Jan. 29.—The battle of the Chapei section of Shanghai, having raged practically continuously since last midnight when the Japanese invaded the city, had become a virtual massacre to-day as leaping flames and roaring air bombers withered the place with destruction.

Onlookers who thronged the roof tops of the skyscrapers in Shanghai's business section throughout the day to watch the area become a shambles of terror and death said the slaughter among the 200,000 Chinese inhabitants was enormous.

Japanese planes roared over the spot every twenty minutes, releasing a thundering mass of bombs against which the Chinese were powerless to defend themselves except with their rifles and machine guns.

The fire which was started by the first bombing yesterday evening grew into a roaring conflagration as the attack continued. It licked its way through the narrow streets of the mud and cobblestone city as a prairie fire might attack the nests of a colony of field mice.

Six separate conflagrations roared their way at once. There was no one to check them and they soon stripped the military action in danger, threatening to wipe out the greater part of Chapei.

BUILDINGS DESTROYED
The Commercial Press building and the railway station, against the latter of which the Japanese had directed several destructive bombing attacks, were finally reached by the flames and gutted. The freight station farther westward also was blazing by 5:30 p.m.

And another fire, fanned by a slight northeasterly breeze, crept dangerously close to the International Settlement.

Earlier in the afternoon a badly aimed Japanese bomb landed within the boundaries of the western end of the settlement and started a fire, but the blaze was put out without casualties, although considerable damage was done.

The Japanese Consul-General assured foreign diplomatic representatives here that Japan contemplated no attack on Nanking.

Word from Amoy said four Japanese destroyers had arrived there and sent ashore a landing party which closed the local Chinese newspaper.

JAPANESE LOSSES
Tokio, Jan. 29.—Japanese casualties in the first night of fighting at Shanghai were two officers and seven blue-jackets killed, twenty-eight of all ranks seriously wounded and nineteen others slightly wounded, according to an official account.

SEND MORE WARSHIPS
London, Jan. 29.—An Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Tokio to-day said the Japanese aircraft carrier Hoshio and a second destroyer flotilla had left Yokohama this afternoon for Shanghai.

SCENES OF HORROR
Shanghai, Jan. 29.—Eye-witnesses returning to the International Settlement this evening described horrible scenes at the dressing stations which, for the most part, were filled with civilians. Among the dead brought in, they said, were a number of babies and bodies of children riddled by bullets.

The Chinese doctors were working under the highest pressure and strain endeavoring to cope with the constant flow of wounded soldiers and civilians.

AGREEMENT ENDS STRIKE THREAT

Winnipeg Street Car Men and Company Settle Wage Question

Canadian Press

Winnipeg, Jan. 29.—Settlement of a wage dispute between the Winnipeg Electric Company and its street railway employees, which for more than a month has threatened to result in a complete tie-up of the city's street car system, was reached early this morning when the workers voted at a mass meeting to accept a compromise proposal which will mean reduction of wages by 6 1/2 per cent.

The company's intention was to cut wages ten per cent. The 1,000 street car employees gathered for their crucial meeting at 2 o'clock this morning in order to allow the majority of the night workers to attend. It took them an hour and a half to give approval to the company's newest proposal.

The agreement provides for an eight-hour day from December 1 to April 30, and a seven-hour day from May 1 to November 30. The new wage rate is effective as from December 1 last. According to street railwaymen's union officials, this schedule works out at a pay cut of 6 1/2 per cent. Workers steadily refused to accept the proposed ten per cent reduction from the time it was announced last December and a majority decision of a board of conciliation, favoring the cut, was turned down on the ground the board chairman, W. J. Christie, of Winnipeg, was a holder of Winnipeg Electric stock.

Mediators between the company and men twice averted strike action. Mayor Ralph H. Webb taking a prominent part in gaining a compromise. The city has not been without street service since the general strike of 1919.

NEW LIGHTNING PROTECTION

New York, Jan. 29.—Something new in lightning protection, a method of "stretching" a thunderbolt, was reported to the United States Institute of Electrical Engineers to-day.

By this method a man-made lightning stroke of 11,000,000 volts, said to be bigger than anything likely to come from a real thunder cloud, has been smoothed out so much that it passes harmlessly through a power line transformer.

This smoothing-out consists in reducing the size of some of the big waves of electrical energy which constitute a lightning stroke. Engineers call these waves "surges." The size is reduced by distributing the waves more uniformly, so that instead of having one excessively high peak wave that smashes everything in its path, there is a series of more moderate waves.

CANDIDATES CHOSEN

Edmonton, Jan. 29.—Percy G. Davies, barrister of Clyde, Alberta, was chosen at a convention held here yesterday as a conservative candidate in the Alberta federal by-election, which will be held March 21, to fill the seat left vacant by the death of J. F. Buckley, M.P. Liberal. Isaac Dose, Smoky Lake farmer, nominated Wednesday, is the Liberal candidate.

PENMAN'S CUTS DIVIDEND

Montreal, Jan. 29.—Penmans Limited announces a dividend of 75c per share on the common stock for the quarter ended December 31. The dividend was formerly paid on a $1 quarterly basis.

FIVE SENTENCED MEN IN ALBERTA PLAN APPEAL

Canadian Press

Calgary, Jan. 29.—Five men, convicted of being members of an unlawful assembly in connection with an unemployment demonstration in Drumheller, Alta., last November, probably will carry their case to the Supreme Court of Canada, according to Ben Ginsburg, their counsel. If the question of finances was settled, Mr. Ginsburg said, the men's appeals would be taken to the higher court.

The men are John O'Sullivan, Fred Leung, Steve MacDonald, Angus McNeil and Louis Haner. They were convicted by a jury under Mr. Justice Ives of having taken part in an illegal assembly in Drumheller, following which they appealed to the Alberta Supreme Court, which upheld the verdict in a judgment yesterday. Because the Alberta Supreme Court's judgment was not an unanimous decision of the presiding judges, one dissenting, the men, Mr. Ginsburg said, would take their cases to the Supreme Court of Canada.

Each was sentenced to twelve months in jail.

Y.M.C.A. WORKER LEAVING JAPAN

Dr. Geo. S. Patterson Returning to Canada After Twenty Years in East

Tokyo, Jan. 12 (By Mail).—Two of the leading members, not only of the Canadian community of Tokyo, but of the foreign community as a whole, are leaving Japan in the near future. In the person of Dr. George S. Patterson, Ph.D., and Mrs. Patterson, who are returning to their home in New Brunswick, Dr. Patterson is proceeding via Honolulu and San Francisco and Mrs. Patterson will travel via China, India and Europe.

Dr. and Mrs. Patterson came to Japan nearly twenty years ago, he as secretary for the international council of the Y.M.C.A., and both have done an untold amount of social work, especially among Japanese boys. Dr. Patterson pioneered camp life among the boys, taking them in summer to the lakes around Mount Fuji and similar places. He relates that in those days the boys would become homesick in two or three days and want to break up camp. Now, camping is one of the main accepted features of school life in Japan and tens of thousands of school and university boys spend weeks camping out every summer. Dr. Patterson headed the delegation of Japanese boys to the world Y.M.C.A. conference at Toronto and Cleveland. A year ago he was elected president of the Canadian Association here, his term expiring at most simultaneously with his departure.

Mrs. Patterson is a former president of the Tokyo women's club, the first Canadian to head such a club, and representative of the entire international feminine society of Tokyo and the most influential body of its kind in Japan. She has also been secretary of the British women's association of Tokyo. Prior to their departure Dr. and Mrs. Patterson have been the recipients of much social attention from their Japanese friends who have endeavored to induce them to remain in Japan.

Dr. Patterson was born in Moncton, New Brunswick, and is a graduate of Mount Allison University at Sackville, New Brunswick. Recently he received the degree of doctor of philosophy from Columbia University, New York, for a thesis on aspects of the conduct of young people. He has taken a prominent part in the work of the international branch of the League of Nations in Tokyo. Mrs. Patterson was born in Glenora, Ontario.

SASKATCHEWAN AND DAKOTA WATER SCHEME

Canadian Press

Minot, N.D., Jan. 29.—Proposal for the construction of a dam in the Souris River, near Estevan, Sask., intended to conserve water and at the same time solve the flood problems of Both Minot and Estevan, has been laid before city and state officials here by Walter Schlosser, representing the Estevan Board of Trade.

The Saskatchewan Government, through Hon. J. F. Bryant, Minister of Public Works, and the city of Estevan, were deeply interested in the proposed project. Mr. Schlosser said, "It is proposed that the Souris River, known as the Mouse River in the United States, be dammed at a point about twenty-two miles north and west of Estevan, and that Canadian engineers have estimated, would impound 60,000,000,000 gallons of water.

The water conserved in this reservoir would be released in a methodical way to keep the river well filled during the dry periods of the year and in the spring it would be held back to avoid flooding.

It has been estimated a dam fifty feet high could be constructed for about $300,000. The dam, it is believed, would back up the water over an area of about 8,000 acres of land that is not valuable. Mr. Schlosser said it was realized damming of the international stream was a matter which must receive study from Dominion as well as United States officials and he said Estevan business leaders hoped to see the project get early consideration.

F. CARTER NAMED VETERANS' HEAD

Election of officers and reception of annual reports featured the annual meeting of the Veterans of France in their headquarters yesterday evening. F. Carter was unanimously chosen president. Other officials were named as follows:

P. Green, honorary president; A. E. Holmes, first vice-president; J. Lowther, second vice-president; A. C. Howard, treasurer; Joseph Bloom, secretary; L. Orchard, sergeant-at-arms; council members and chairmen of various committees: sick committee, J. Thompson; publicity, W. Cooke; sports, F. Whitford; finance, T. Ray; ways and means, H. Burnett and C. S. Crosby; Armistice Day period chairman is A. C. Howard.

All reports were adopted by the meeting, which was particularly well attended. Mr. Carter succeeds P. Green as head of the association.

DIRECT RELIEF PROVES COSTLY

Saanich Pays $2,005 For Groceries Distributed in Three Weeks

The first three weeks of direct relief in Saanich cost $2,005.91, the municipal council was yesterday evening informed. Bills for supplies distributed between December 20 and January 15, on the basis of $5 weekly to each family, were approved for payment, Saanich will pay slightly less than one-third of the cost, the whole of the aid given single men and transients being transferred to the federal government.

The newly opened municipal direct relief bureau, located at the corner of Douglas Street and Regent Avenue, will cost $75 monthly. Frank Kitto has been appointed relief officer and will be on probation for two weeks. He will receive $2.50 daily for five and one-half days weekly, the other expenses being $5 for rent and $4.50 for telephone.

OPEN EMPLOYMENT LIST

In addition to investigating relief applications and issuing orders on employment register, the council yesterday evening authorized the added duty, insisting, however, the only willing workers be put in touch with the office. The telephone of the relief office is E mpire 3043.

Baden-Powell Sends Congratulations To Victoria Boy Scouts

Canadian Press

Victoria Boy Scout circles are elated over a letter received this morning from Sir Robert Baden-Powell, Chief Scout, in London, congratulating them on their smartness and correct dress as a recent scout gathering in Vancouver.

The letter, addressed to J. A. Stiles, executive commissioner for Canadian scouts with headquarters at Ottawa, reads: "I just want to tell you how awfully pleased I am to read in the report of the Boy Scouts of America that the Boy Scouts from Victoria made a better show than their American brothers as to details of correct uniform."

"I would like to thank, as well as congratulate, the Boy Scouts in Victoria on this good turn which they have done for the British Movement by being correctly dressed and taking a pride in their uniform as Scouts."

When the Victoria scouts went to Vancouver, there was a scout commissioner from Seattle along with the U.S. scouts. He was impressed with the way the Victoria boys were "turned out" that he wrote to the Boy Scouts of America publication stating that they "made a better show than their American brothers as to details of correct uniform." The praise was brought to the attention of the Chief Scout in London and he was quick to send his reply.

PETER VERIGIN IS WITNESS AT PRAIRIE TRIAL

Canadian Press

Yorkton, Sask., Jan. 29.—Peter Verigin, leader of the Christian Community of Universal Brotherhood, was twice sentenced to death, served two years in several jails in Russia, and finally was released and escaped the death penalty on the understanding he would leave the country and migrate to Canada, and since arrival here some four years ago, has accumulated in the neighborhood of $720,000. These revelations were made by the Doukhobor leader himself while giving evidence at the preliminary hearing of George F. Chutskoff, who appeared in court here yesterday before Magistrate A. McDonald, charged with perjury.

In November last Peter Verigin appeared in court before Chief Justice Brown of Regina in a civil action against George Chutskoff, in which the latter was awarded the decision of the court. In questioning Peter Verigin about the case yesterday, J. A. M. Patterson, apparently Chief Justice Brown believed Chutskoff's story rather than yours when you both appeared in court last November, did he not?" "Oh, I don't know. Maybe the judge got a message from God," Verigin answered.

Verigin denied having told several Doukhobors the government was bringing independent Doukhobors to burn schools, and that was the reason the government was not thoroughly investigating the fires which were wiping out the schools. "You not tell some Doukhobors you were two men and could be a god one minute and a devil the next, and could change from one to the other faster than you could change your shirt?" Mr. Patrick asked. "No," replied Verigin.

City Asks Power For Borrowing In Private Bill

Notice of Victoria's intention to seek a private bill for borrowing and refunding powers at the forthcoming session of the Legislature is contained in this week's issue of The British Columbia Gazette. The powers requested are set out as follows:

Authorizing the corporation by-law with the assent of the electors to borrow upon debentures a part or all of its expenditures on account of unemployment relief, whether for direct relief or for labor and material, during the years 1930 and 1931, and such sum or sums of money, including cost of labor and material, as may be expended during the year 1932 to complete the corporation's programme of unemployment relief work.

Authorizing the corporation by-law to borrow upon debentures a sum not exceeding in the aggregate $200,000, and to apply the proceeds thereof toward the redemption of serial debentures of the corporation falling due in 1932.

WOULDN'T COMB HAIR NEW MEMBER HEADS BOARD

Crippled by Rheumatism

I had been suffering with rheumatism for about 2 years, and about time last year was laid up for 10 weeks. My hands and arms and knees were the worst affected. I couldn't do anything at all. I could not wash my hair or comb my hair. All this had to be done for me. At the beginning of the year I started taking Kruschen every morning and I am pleased to say I am quite well now and able to see to my home and can go out in all kinds of weather without it hurting me. Mrs. P. K. Kruschen is associated with an acid of Uric Acid in the system. It has the power of dissolving acid so as to render it capable of being easily washed out of the system. Her ingredients of Kruschen assist in flushing out this dissolved acid through the bowels and kidneys. Other ingredients still prevent food fermentation taking place in the intestine, and thereby check formation not only of uric acid but of other impurities which poison blood and pave the way to ill-health. (Adv't.)

STUDY MARKETS FOR B.C. FISH

Committee of Cabinet Directs Efforts to Aiding Fishing Industry

The markets extension committee of the Provincial Cabinet will devote its attention for the next few weeks to a study of the fishing industry in B.C. with a view to bringing about better conditions through extension of the market and standardization of canning. It was announced by Hon. N. S. Hughes, chairman, yesterday, following a meeting of the committee. Possibilities of opening up a larger market for B.C. goods in South America will be considered, although empire trade, it is stated, offers the best opportunities at the present time. The fishing industry New Zealand and South Africa are looked to for trade. The committee's aim is to prepare facts and lay them before the public. Having the initiative in their hands to advance the welfare of their own industry.

For some time the committee has been dealing with the lumber industry and endorsed the work of Major R. Andrews in sales extension work in Australia, New Zealand and Fiji. Loren L. Brown, special lumber sales commissioner in Great Britain.

QUEBEC BILL OPPOSED

Montreal, Jan. 29 (Canadian Press).—Criticism of a bill now before the Quebec Legislature which proposes to make wages paid for unemployment work non-seizable for debt was voiced at a meeting of the Grocers' Association here yesterday evening. Grocers recommended, in a resolution adopted, not to give any credit until the bill is amended so that no exception is made of debts contracted for food.

Major A. A. Warder Named Chairman of Esquimalt School Trustees

Major A. A. Warder, newly-elected member of the Esquimalt School Board, was named chairman of that body at its first meeting since the municipal elections yesterday evening. He was selected of the post after Mrs. Sarah King, a member of long standing, had declined to allow her name to be posted for the office owing to private reasons.

Requests for supplies for the year, submitted by the principals of the high and elementary schools of the district, were handed to a committee composed of Major Warder, S. A. Pomeroy, secretary, and Hugh Creelman, principal of Lamson Street School, to call for tenders, which will be submitted to the board at its next meeting.

Tendering his list of requirements, Mr. Creelman stated he had cut out all unessentials in order to effect as great an economy as possible in his department.

The advisability of this course was questioned by Trustees Alexander Lockley and Mrs. Sarah King, who noted that if the principal had underestimated the requirements for the year, the board would have to pay more for small items desired at the end of the term in small quantities than by purchasing them in bulk at the beginning of the year.

STRESSES NEED Trustee A. T. Farley reminded the board of the necessity of practicing economy in its work during the year. Chairman Warder stated he understood that point clearly, but was unwilling to let economy encroach upon the efficiency of school work.

Mr. Creelman's report showed attendance marks to be at a very high average. Seventeen new children were being admitted to the receiving class at Lamson Street, he added.

In addition to requesting supplies, he asked that the school ground be tarred in order to keep down the mud in rainy weather. The board acceded to his request to have paper towels used entirely in place of cloth ones by the students.

It was roughly estimated that the lowest expenditures required for supplies for the grade school would be approximately $50 under the total last year which was about $800.

TO MAKE INVENTORY A satisfactory report was also received from Miss N. Hewlings, principal of the high school. The matter of supplies for that institution was also left in the hands of the special committee.

The auditor's report was received and filed. Introducing a new idea, Chairman Warder stated he would have a complete inventory made of the contents of the school.

He also stated, after studying the costs of schools in the district during the last six years, he thought the mill rate for educational purposes there to be very fair.

TO CONSIDER SALARY CUTS

Saanich Council Calls School and Police Board Into Conference

Co-ordinated action in regard to reduction of the salaries of all municipal employees of Saanich will be sought by the Saanich Council. A joint conference will be held with the school board and the police commission for the purpose of discussion.

Reeve Crouch was yesterday evening instructed to make the arrangements for the conference, to be held as early as possible, to enable the school board to complete their estimates by February 15.

Councillors expressed the view that if any reductions in salaries should be put into effect, a simple system applicable to every municipal employee should be evolved.

Several members of the council suggested that ten per cent reduction throughout the whole of the municipal service should be the basis of discussion at the conference, but no formal resolution was presented on the matter.

Local Store Buys Salvaged Fire Stock

The General Warehouse was the successful bidder for the salvaged fire stock of J. W. Taylor, exclusive ladies' store of Granville Street, Vancouver. The fire attracted considerable attention, causing a traffic jam which the police straightened out after much difficulty. The blaze started in the evening during Christmas shopping week and crowds of shoppers viewed the spectacle. The proprietor, Mr. Taylor, in the hospital at present, recovering from the shock. One of the clerks, in trying to recover her purse, was overcome by smoke and collapsed. She was later rescued by a fireman, who fortunately stumbled across her. In order to start renovating at once, tenders were called for the purchase for cash, and removal of the salvaged stock within twenty-four hours, which the local store fulfilled to the satisfaction of the fire adjusters.

Sooke

A card party of military five hundred was held in the Sooke Hall Wednesday evening under the auspices of the Sooke and North Sooke Women's Institute. There were eleven tables in play, the prizes being awarded as follows: First table, Mrs. C. A. Helgeson, Mrs. D. Porteous, C. A. Helgeson and C. T. Muir; consolation table, Mrs. H. Page, Mrs. W. Cairns, W. Thompson and G. Worden; ten bid, D. Graves and H. McCright. Refreshments were served and dancing followed, the music being supplied through the kindness of Mrs. Robert Acreman, Mrs. M. A. Clark, Mrs. Dove, Mrs. Henry, C. A. Helgeson and C. Thompson. Conveners for the evening were Mrs. A. L. Wilson and Mrs. H. Slack.

PROGRESS MADE BY ST. AIDAN'S

The annual congregation gathering of St. Aidan's United Church was held on Wednesday evening, with good representation of the members and friends. Rev. H. J. Armitage occupied the chair. The report indicated progress in all departments and the session reported eleven persons received into membership during the year. Reports of departments were presented as follows:

Frank Jennings, treasurer, current account receipts, $1,449; Mrs. C. F. Dawson, ladies' guild, $370; Mrs. H. J. Armitage, missionary fund, $220; Miss M. Irvine, women's missionary society, $101; Miss Barbara Dawson, Sunday school, $118; Miss Miriam Williams, young people's society, $19; Miss Hilda Thompson, C.G.I.T., $22; C. Croft, hall fund, $63. Commendation was extended the leaders of departments and to all others who had served the church during the year.

An unanimous vote of appreciation was given to Rev. H. J. and Mrs. Armitage, for their encouraging service and leadership. Some discussion took place as to the possibility of church redecoration, and a committee was appointed to investigate and bring in a report.

The following were elected members of the board of stewards: Frank Jennings, W. H. Carr, G. F. Dawson, R. H. Beare, P. Pearson, A. Rice, G. W. Sharpe and Kenneth Jennings. Frank Jennings was re-elected choir leader; Mrs. C. F. Dawson, organist and Joshua Taylor, caretaker.

Wanganui Master Is Returning Home From New Zealand

For many years headmaster of the famous Wanganui boys' college in New Zealand, Rev. C. F. Pierce, accompanied by Mrs. Pierce, arrived here by the Aorangi yesterday from Auckland. Mr. Pierce recently resigned the headmastership of Wanganui and has been succeeded by J. Allen, who has been associated with him at the school as principal.

After looking over Canada, Mr. and Mrs. Pierce will sail by the liner Montrose for their old home at Cranbrook, Kent, Eng.

TRAVEL HALTED TO HONOLULU

Hawaiian Resort Hurt By Lurid Reports of Racial Feeling, Say Travelers

Reservations Cancelled and Families Unnecessarily Called Home By Cable

Travelers returning from Honolulu by the Aorangi, which docked here yesterday afternoon from Australia and New Zealand, asserted that the Kahahawai slaying, grossly exaggerated in reports broadcast of racial feeling, had played serious havoc with Hawaii's tourist business.

"It is just as safe to go about in Honolulu as it is in Victoria or Vancouver," declared Blake M. Wilson, Vancouver business man, who returned with Mrs. Wilson and family after spending a vacation in the Hawaiian Islands.

"You can't quote me too strongly in this matter," he said. "I think Hawaii has been done a great injustice by unwarranted and sensational propaganda. My wife and I went about Honolulu without any sense of danger, the streets were as quiet as any normal city, and there was no sign of racial feeling."

SPREAD OF FEAR

"Because of the lurid reports sent out concerning this unfortunate incident, the tourist business of the Hawaiian Islands has received a serious setback. Reservations for hotel accommodation in Honolulu have been cancelled and travel to the islands has been greatly curtailed. The situation has been treated so sensationally that business men on this side of the Pacific, whose families have been wintering in Hawaii, have been calling their people to return home."

"This, to those acquainted with the true conditions, is a most ridiculous situation. I would like to emphasize most emphatically that no racial trouble exists and that Honolulu is one of the safest places in the world for residents or visitors."

POLICE SHAKE-UP

The police force of Honolulu has been completely reorganized following the shooting affray, but apart from that the city is normal," said Hugh W. Dann, sales manager for the John Deere Plough Company, who is returning to his home in Calgary from a visit to Hawaii.

"The whole trouble is the result of the hitherto loose police system in Hawaii, under which criminals serving prison terms were allowed out on parole at week-ends," he said. "Kahahawai was out on parole when he became the central figure of the shooting incident."

"Daniel Lyman, another criminal, who was given parole on New Year's Eve, was still missing when we sailed from Honolulu. The authorities in Honolulu have had the situation well in hand from the outset and no more danger exists in walking the streets than in any other city."

"The beaches are crowded and play continues unabated. I met scores of Canadians, some of them Victorians, who were happily riding the surf boards and basking in the tropical sunshine."

OIL COMPANY MAKES PROFIT

Calgary, Jan. 29.—Net profit of $194,330 was made by Mercury Oil Ltd. from its naphtha, crude oil and gas sales in 1931, company officials announced today. The firm operates wells in Turner Valley oil fields.

Although the company made a dividend distribution of 50 per share, amounting to $160,658, at the end of 1931, it had a surplus of $47,394, it was announced.

Great Pain In The Back From Rheumatism

Immediate Relief From
Carter's Little Liver Pills

Not only did Mr. Arthur P. have Rheumatism, but he also had severe attacks of indigestion, and his back gave him great trouble. This was a very serious matter to him as by occupation he was a miner.

On a friend's advice he tried Carter's Little Liver Pills which woke up his liver bile as well as his sluggish bowels. He says: "I received immediate relief, and strongly recommend your valuable pills to sufferers from Rheumatism, indigestion and Constipation."

Vegetables are a valuable aid to health; and Dr. Carter's Little Liver Pills are PURELY VEGETABLE. No calomel. Ordinary laxatives only move your bowels. Carter's Little Liver Pills give your liver gentle and very necessary stimulation also. Always ask for Carter's by name. Sold everywhere, 25c & 75c red packages.

SOCIETY CHOOSES 1932 OFFICERS

Mayor Leeming Again Heads
Anti-vivisectionists in City

Officers of the Victoria branch of the Anti-vivisection Society were elected at the annual meeting in Unity Hall yesterday evening, Mayor David Leeming being again chosen to head the organization as president.

W. B. Pesse and T. L. Boyden were selected honorary vice-presidents and the other officers are: First vice-president, Mrs. Vivenot; second vice-president, G. B. Kitch; directors, Mrs. H. Crane, Miss N. Wyles, Miss Dora Kitch (secretary), G. Philbrook, H. Pate, H. Webster, H. Kroeger and Dr. Ellis Hallor; ladies' committee, Mesdames W. J. Bonavia, W. Hornsby, L. Roseboom, P. Rasmussen, G. Riddle, E. Lawes, J. Stewart, J. Iverson, Jenkinson, and Misses Shrapnel, M. Walsh, Gesch, A. Boss and D. Hills.

The secretary's report reviewed a year of considerable activity, but stated that a petition for abolition of vivisection in Canada, signed by thousands of sympathizers with the society, had not received a hearing on account of the pressure of work during the session of the House of Commons last year. Over 7,000 names were obtained on a petition against the shipping of live horses to France for slaughter. It was reported, the result being that "the conditions under which this traffic was being conducted will not be continued."

SIGN BOARDS

Reference was made to the maintenance of sign boards attacking vivisection on Fort and Shelbourne Streets, and to the Canadian Abolition Society in Montreal.

Among the gifts made to the society was an autographed copy of Kipling's story, "The Servant, a Dog," donated by Andrew McNeil, M.D., of England, who is a life member of the local branch. This is to be disposed of for funds.

The secretary reported that World Day for Animals was gaining support in many directions, and was marked by a tea in Victoria. Monthly teas are being held during the winter.

ANIMALS AT RISK

It was decided during the meeting to take up with the City Council the use of animals in connection with the Jubilee Hospital and ask for an investigation.

Entertainment included a vocal solo by Miss Katherine Denison.

SEEKING WAYS TO CUT COSTS

Saanich May Hold Police
Court at Royal Oak; More
Patrols Suggested

Believing that joint action by Saanich, Oak Bay and Esquimalt might reduce the cost of police court proceedings, Police Commissioner A. E. Scalfs yesterday evening urged the Saanich Police Commission to invite the two neighboring municipalities to a joint conference.

The proposal was deferred pending a consultation with E. L. Tait, the municipal solicitor, regarding holding court at Royal Oak with justices of the peace officiating and other suggested changes. It was believed that $1,000 annually could be cut from the police estimates by the change of venue.

Commissioners Goddard and Scalfs criticized Reeve Crouch for having intervened in certain juvenile cases. Reeve Crouch insisted upon his right to intervene in cases which he deemed advisable.

SALARY REDUCTIONS

Prospect of salary reductions was introduced by Commissioner Goddard, who announced that he would contest lower police salaries unless the policy was general through all the municipal services, including schools.

Reeve Crouch agreed and announced that a joint conference of the council, school board and police commission would be summoned shortly by the council.

SPECIAL PATROL

Commissioner Goddard believed that more protection should be accorded property, many complaints of damage to empty houses having been made to him. He suggested employment of three or more special constables; to patrol for a few hours nightly in Wards One, Two and Seven. He believed reliable men could be obtained for about $15 monthly.

If salary reductions were instituted a ten per cent cut would provide $70 monthly. While such a special patrol would prevent any saving being passed on to the taxpayers, he believed the improved protection would be popular. The suggestion was deferred for consideration with the estimates.

I.O.D.E. In Favor Of Saluting Flag In Schools Daily

Municipal Chapter Records Approval of Government Advocated by Minister

Reports Show Much Activity in Child and School Welfare Work

The Municipal Chapter, I.O.D.E., at its monthly meeting yesterday afternoon went on record as being in favor of the daily saluting of the Union Jack and the singing of the National Anthem in the schools as advocated by Hon. J. Hinchliffe, Minister of Education.

Mrs. L. A. Genge, the recent, president and much routine business effected during the afternoon. She appealed to the members to support the women's workroom, and asked for tapers to assist in the tag day to be held on February 6, with Miss Wiley as general convenor. Mrs. E. C. Hayward reported having distributed Empire Marketing Board posters to the local shops, and also that the Pioneer Nightingale Chapter had collected eighty books which had been sent to the Peace River district.

ANNUAL MEETING PLANS
 The provincial summary was read, and at the National Chapter records, the Navy League Chapter to be held at the annual meeting of the Municipal Chapter on March 16 at headquarters. The Navy League Chapter to be held at the annual meeting of the Municipal Chapter on March 16 at headquarters.

The treasurer's report showed a satisfactory balance in hand. The organizing secretary reported that Mrs. J. R. Riley, provincial organizing secretary, had resigned on account of illness, and deep regret was expressed by the members. The Echoes secretary reminded the chapters to send in their reports as soon as possible.

CHILD WELFARE
 Mrs. George Miles gave a most interesting report of child welfare work in the past year. She reported that $188 having been spent on Christmas hampers, fifty having been sent out, and many of the donations made by needy families. It was moved that a letter be sent to the Boy Scouts congratulating them upon their good work in providing toys for children.

The report regarding the money sent in by the chapters to help build a boat for the Sea Cadets was transferred to the purchase of bugles, was heartily agreed to.

It was announced that the Canadian Scott's column had arrived, and the treasurer was authorized to pay over to the regiment the money collected for this purpose.

Mrs. E. Hopkins, Mrs. W. R. Sawyer, Mrs. Collins, Cummins and Mrs. W. Middleton were appointed delegates to attend the annual meeting of the Local Council of Women. The report of the annual meeting of the Navy League, Mrs. F. R. Wright gave a report on the prisoners of war fund and spoke of thanks expressed by an ex-prisoner helped by this fund.

OTHER REPORTS
 Reports were read by Mrs. P. E. Corby Girls Guides' convenor; Mrs. S. H. Burke, films convenor; Mrs. G. W. Plumb, soldiers' graves, and Mrs. Sawyer, house committee. She told of the need of towels, which were donated at once by Mrs. K. Symons, and it was agreed that a shower for suits and suitcases be held at the next meeting. Mrs. H. R. Prior gave a report of the finances. A donation will be sent to the Christmas Exchange and an I.O.D.E. calendar to Mrs. W. McManis, to be presented to St. Louis College.

Miss Maria Martindale of Jordan River came to Victoria Monday to spend three months. She was accompanied by her mother, Mrs. C. Martindale, who will return to Jordan River shortly.

The many friends of Miss Mary Baird, who recently visited Victoria, are regretting to learn that she sustained a broken ankle while engaging in the winter sports at Grouse Mountain.

Captain and Mrs. W. G. Merston entertained yesterday at the Beach Hotel informally for Miss Constance Waugh and Captain Christopher Vokes, whose wedding will take place on Saturday evening.

Mrs. C. W. Rhodes entertained yesterday afternoon at her home on Terrace Avenue with a bridge tea in honor of Mrs. C. B. McAllister of Vancouver, who is on an extended visit in Victoria as the guest of her brother-in-law and sister, Colonel and Mrs. Lennox Irving, Foul Bay Road.

Rev. T. Stansbury, B.D., rector of St. Peter's Church at Cobourg, Ont., accompanied by his wife, arrived in Victoria this morning to join Mrs. Boyle's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Ashley Garrod of Epsom, England, who have been guests at the Oak Bay Hotel, Oak Bay, for the last three months.

Mrs. A. Bucklin was again "at home" yesterday afternoon at her residence, Moss Street, when Mrs. James H. Fletcher and Mrs. D. O. Cameron presided at the tea table, which was attractively centred with daffodils, carnations and pussywillows. An informal musical programme was much enjoyed by the guests.

Mrs. Anthony Farrer will entertain this evening at a dinner party at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Gibson, York Place, when her guests will be Miss Constance Waugh, Captain Christopher Vokes and those who will constitute the other members of the bridal party for the wedding of Miss Waugh and Captain Vokes to take place to-morrow evening in St. Mary's Church, Oak Bay.

BALL TO-NIGHTBrilliant Function This Evening at Empress Hotel With Officers as Hosts

Final preparations have been made for the annual ball of the United Services Institution which is to be held at the Empress Hotel this evening. The event promises to be one of the most brilliant functions of the season.

A number of parties have been made up for the occasion, including many out-of-town guests, and many dinner parties will precede the ball, while other parties are going to it after attending the theatre. An unusually attractive programme of music will be provided for the dancing, and the supper arrangements are of an elaborate nature. Invitations for the affair may be obtained of the honorary secretary, Col. H. T. Goodland, D.S.O.

BELMONT CHURCH HAD GOOD YEAR

The annual meeting of Belmont United Church was held on Monday evening with Rev. James Hood in the chair. H. A. Andrews and C. C. Howard were elected elders, and the following were appointed to the board of stewards: J. Chapman, R. P. Knott, Fred. Emery, G. Webber, W. B. Wellwood, W. Cook, Mrs. F. Emery and Mrs. G. Butler.

Miss Mona Emery reported for the C.O.I.T. Miss Lily Perry reviewed the work of the Swastika Mission Circle. Mrs. Perry presented the report of the Women's Missionary Society and Mrs. John Hall told of the work of the Women's Auxiliary.

The Sunday school had made progress in all departments. T. Bailey stating that increased attendance had been recorded.

The report of the stewards was presented by F. Emery and showed a credit balance at the end of the year.

Plan Annual
Birthday Party

The Native Daughters of British Columbia, Post No. 3, met in the New Thought Hall, Fort Street, on Wednesday evening. There was a good turnout of members. The early part of the evening was devoted to the initiation services which made Miss Laverne Neelands a member of Post No. 3. At the close of the initiation, the chief factor, Mrs. T. F. Waters, pinned on the members a small bouquet of narcissus and baby's toes in the post's colors. A short business discussion then took place, followed with music supplied by Miss A. Thaine. The evening was brought to a close by the hostesses serving a delicious supper, which was enjoyed by all, those responsible being Mrs. L. Lorimer, Mrs. H. Daniel, Miss Mildred Chrove and Miss Lillian Smethurst. On February 10 the Post will hold their annual birthday party, which this year will take the form of a social evening with dancing and cards, for the members and their friends.

ALBERNI NOTES

Alberni, Jan. 29.—Practically all the executive of 1931 were re-elected to office at the annual meeting of the Alberni Co-operative Association on Tuesday evening in All Saints' Hall. J. Plam was the only exception, the following being elected: President, R. Hotchkiss; vice-president, John Redford; secretary-treasurer, Jack Richardson; executive committee, George Richardson, Isaac Summers, F. R. Bayne and Ernest Goodall.

Phency Willis, representative of the Shantymen's Christian Association, was the dinner guest of Mrs. J. L. Dunn Wednesday evening. He went to camp four and will return to take part in the services at Port Alberni United Church Saturday evening, and will conduct service at Great Central on Sunday.

I.O.D.E. Plan Bridge Tea—The Major John Hebdon Gillespie Chapter I.O.D.E. are planning a bridge party to be held in Spencer's tea rooms Saturday afternoon, February 13. Those wishing to reserve tables are asked to notify Miss Louise Pollard, phone E 8976. The proceeds will be in aid of needy families.

Fellowship Club—The Fellowship Club held its monthly tea and entertainment at the Jubilee Hospital on Tuesday afternoon for the patients in the two aged and infirm wards. The visitors were warmly welcomed, and the patients thoroughly enjoyed the attractive musical programme given by Mrs. Bosworth, Mrs. Thornboro, Mrs. Griffin and Mrs. Sharpton. The absence of Mrs. Panthorpe from the visiting members, owing to indisposition, was much regretted. The club served a dainty tea during the afternoon.

To Hold Social—The ladies of the First Spiritualist Church will hold a church social this evening at the home of Mrs. Mason, 46 Howe Street.

Honored For Fifty
Years in Railroad

Montreal, Jan. 29.—The first woman to complete a record of almost half a century of service in Canadian railroading was honored yesterday evening when Miss M. A. McLeod, an employee in the Comptroller's office of the Canadian National Railways, received a presentation. Miss McLeod joined the old Grand Trunk Railway in 1889.

After enjoying winter vacations in Honolulu, a number of prominent residents passed through Victoria yesterday afternoon aboard the liner Aorangi on their way to the mainland port. The party was composed of Mr. and Mrs. Blake Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. McDonald and Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Cameron and Miss E. M. Cameron.

Dramatic School
Hears Address By Visiting Actress

Miss Thelma Rae of the Sir Barry Jackson "Yellow Sands" company gave a delightfully humorous address on "A Stage Career" before students and friends of the B.C. Dramatic School yesterday afternoon, in the course of which much of value to dramatic students was pleasantly presented. Sir Charles Delme-Radcliffe, distinguished soldier, spoke of his experience in the Indian army, covering a period of seven years. He reviewed conditions in modern India and the present unrest and political agitation, and Sir Charles recommended to those interested in India the reading of "The India Which We Serve" by Sir Walter Lawrence.

Mrs. Hebdon Gillespie thanked the speakers on behalf of the B.C. Dramatic School, and Major Bullock-Webster thanked Miss Rae, who was the tea guest of Mrs. W. M. Hotman at the close of the address. On Thursday next at 4.30 o'clock there will be a further opportunity for students and friends to hear something of stage management when Mr. Paul Smyth, stage manager for Sir Barry Jackson, will speak in the theatre of the B.C. Dramatic School, and Mr. Donald Wolcott, who interpreted the role of Robert Browning in "The Barretts of Wimpole Street," will also speak.

METROPOLITAN OPERA TO-MORROW
IS "DIE WALKURE"

One of Wagner's great music-dramas will be heard in part when the National Broadcasting Company offers the second act of "Die Walkure" from the Metropolitan Opera House commencing at 12 o'clock, noon, Victoria time, tomorrow. A new soprano, Gota Ljungberg, will have one of the three leading roles. K.F.R. Seattle, will release the broadcast for local listeners.

Birthday Greetings
Are Extended
To-day To—

HON. W. A. MCKENZIE

Minister of Mines and Minister of Labor for British Columbia, who was born in Puslinch, Ont., in 1874, is to-day celebrating his fifty-eighth birthday.

Mr. McKenzie resided at Penticton before coming to Victoria after the last provincial general election to join the Tolmie Cabinet. Mr. McKenzie is not only Minister of Mines and Labor but also the "Dempsy" of the cabinet.

"Bill," as he is familiarly known, is the man who faces the opposition in the Legislature when the brickbats are flying thickest. He seems to like that kind of going. In his younger days "Bill" was quite a ball player, and what he learned then in dodging curves at the plate probably helps him in dodging the issue when T. D. Pattullo and Alec. Manson, the two leading pitchers of the Liberal Party, are on the mound "knocking 'em over."

"Bill" has plenty of friends and they are wishing him long life and happiness on his birthday to-day.

Your Baby
and Mine

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

BABY VICTORIOUS IN THIS SILENT STRUGGLE

Some of the methods pursued by mothers in efforts to lure their children to take food are both pathetic and amusing. The image of a mother sitting for an hour with a bottle of milk and gruel at the lips of a child who during the entire time, made not one single attempt to partake of it belongs in a gallery of portraits of conscientious mothers. A sense of humor is invaluable in such a situation, and recalls the old saw that one can lead a horse to water but cannot make him drink.

Even if feeding is a serious business, one must accept the fact that an appetite is aroused when food seems precious and interesting, not when it takes on the aspect of a punishment.

WILL NOT EAT

A mother has a baby of fourteen months who has weighed as much as twenty pounds but now weighs a little over nineteen. The baby has had a monthly inspection by a baby doctor who has taken the bottle only when the child has been given to her, not on schedule, but any time she would accept it.

The doctor says that the only way to bring back her weight is to give her cereal. Her mother says this is easier said than done. She has never accepted cereal willingly. She has been starved a whole day, and then still refused it as strenuously as ever. It was during this altercation that the mother sat for an hour with the bottle of milk and gruel at her lips without the child making the least effort to drink it. If she is given anything she dislikes, she promptly vomits it.

REST OF THE STORY?

This much of the story—the mother has told, and I am wondering whether it is all. Has the mother ever, in her earnest endeavor to get cereal or even milk into the child, forced it upon her to the point of vomiting? If this happened even once, the child would have learned that vomiting was one type of protest against which the mother had no defensive weapons.

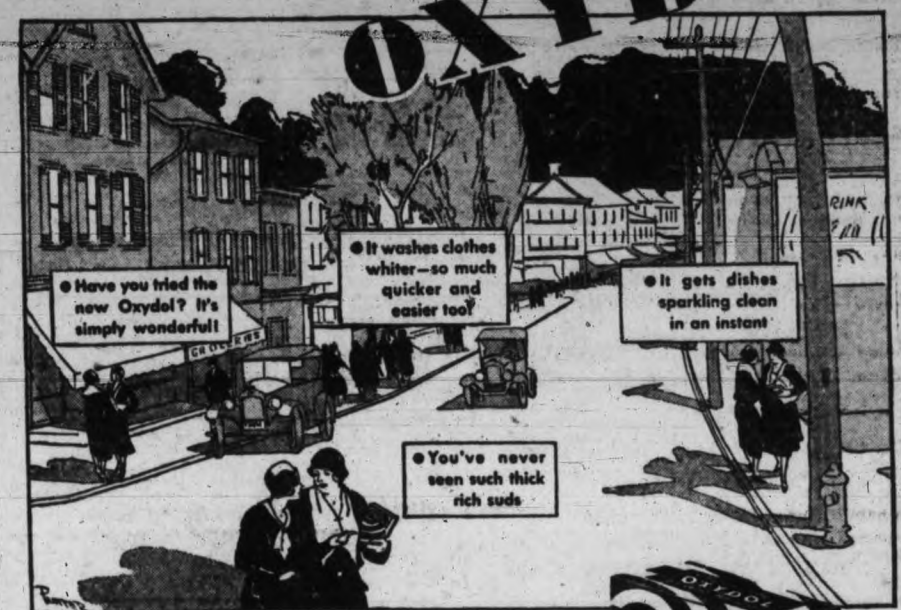

Stop trying to force cereal, Mrs. O.C. Space the meals at 7, 12 and 6.30. Offer one teaspoonful of ripe, sliced bananas at 7, and then three or four ounces of skimmed milk. At 12 offer a spoonful or two of sliced vegetable and the same amount of skimmed milk by cup, not bottle. At 4 in the afternoon offer a half-cupful of sweet orange juice. At 6.30 give the same as at 7 a.m.

NATURE CO-OPERATES

Keep this limited food schedule up for several days until the child has developed a splendid appetite and has begun to appreciate food. Then gradually, but very slowly, increase the amounts. When the mother no longer attempts to force food, when the molar are in and are ceasing to irritate the child, nature will begin to work with the mother.

Hunger is caused by little food at long intervals, and appetite by a pleasant memory of how good food was when it satisfied this hunger. Please, Mrs. D. O.C., send me a self-addressed stamped envelope for my leaflet "Physical and Psychological Reasons for Appetitelessness." Make some of its principles your own. Children learn to hate food instead of enjoy it just because mothers are so eager to keep up the weight. There is nothing to alarm you in a small loss of weight at teething time. It is far better for the baby's future to allow her appetitelessness to wear off naturally.

The 1931 tourist season brought the largest influx of summer visitors in the history of Nova Scotia when more than 250,000 tourists visited the province.

Tea and Musicales

Special to The Times

Nanaimo, Jan. 29.—A very successful tea and musicale was held at the home of Miss Gladys Hindmarch, Union Avenue, under the auspices of the Malaspina Chapter, I.O.D.E. The affair was one of the events of the season, $150 being raised to replenish the funds of the organization. The concert was given by the Misses Dorothy Devlin and Hannah Haile. A home-baking sale and fortune telling by Mrs. Levi Dendoff realized a good sum. The afternoon tea was served from lovely appointments, centred with chrysanthemums in golden and white shades, supported in a large cut glass repousse and embedded in pale green tulle. Presiding at the tea urn were Mrs. J. Barsby, Mrs. G. A. B. Ball, Miss E. Dobson and Mrs. R. R. Hindmarch. A splendid musical programme was rendered by several of the city's outstanding vocalists with Mrs. Keighly acting as accompanist.

Harry G. Nolan, Calgary, gave an address yesterday before the Women's Canadian Club at the Malaspina Hotel, on the life of Cecil Rhodes. "The Empire Builder," Mrs. W. P. McDonald, rendered two songs, "Angus McDonald," and "Songs My Mother Sang." The following new members were admitted to the club: Mrs. J. W. Dobson, Miss Ella Dobson and Miss Janet Wilson.

OATMEAL FOR SCOTCH

The 1931 oat crop in Scotland was practically a failure, and as a consequence oatmeal and other oat products have been scarce and dear in the land of the heather, so much so that it has been found necessary to import quantities from abroad—Canada, United States and Germany. Notwithstanding the short crop, however, prospective exhibitors at the World's Grain Exhibition and Conference to be held at Regina, Canada, 1933, give the assurance that they have plenty of good samples to make a very fine showing. It must be remembered too that there is still the crop of 1932 from which to choose samples.

BEDTIME STORY

Uncle Wiggily and
Shaggy Raggy

(Copyright, 1932, by Howard R. Garis)

"Well, well, well! This is a great surprise!" said Uncle Wiggily. "It's just as much of a surprise to me as it is to you," said the big animal with whom the rabbit gentleman had taken refuge in a snow cave when the storm made him lose his way. "I couldn't imagine what it was," went on the big animal, "that was wiggling around in my fur!" "And I thought," chuckled Mr. Longears, "that your fur was an overcoat!" "Ha! Ha!" laughed the big animal, who had been taking his winter sleep in the snow cave. "Ha! Ha!" laughed Uncle Wiggily. Though it had proved to be an animal instead of a fur coat in the cave, the rabbit was not at all afraid. For the big animal had said that he would be a friend to the bunny. "You are quite welcome here," went on the big animal, wearing the fur which looked like a big coat. "Stay as long as you like."

"This is a surprise!"

"Thank you, so much," murmured the rabbit. "Let me see—Mr. Longears, I don't know your name," said Uncle Wiggily. "I am Shaggy Raggy," was the answer, "and I am a big brown bear. I burrowed down under this snow to have my winter sleep and—yes, and I come along and snuggle into your fur coat and wake you up. I guess that's what you were going to say, were you not?" asked Mr. Longears. "No, indeed," chuckled Shaggy Raggy, which is what the bear looked like in his big fur coat. "I'm glad you awakened me, for I was having a bad dream and now it is over."

"What were you dreaming about?" asked Uncle Wiggily as he sat in the cave. "I was dreaming," said the jolly old bear gentleman, "that the Bob Cat said he was a cousin of mine and so he wanted to come and live in this cave with me."

"The Bob Cat a cousin of yours? Never!" cried Uncle Wiggily. "How could he say that even in a dream?" "I don't know now, but he did it!" growled Mr. Shaggy Raggy. "It was a

The Japanese, a truck gardener, was charged with cashing more than 100 of spurious small cheques at stores here. Most of the cheques he signed "H. Nogota." One was signed "K. Nomumi."

Heart Hungry

LAURA LOU BROOKMAN
AUTHOR OF "DASH ROMANCE" © 1930 by NEA SERVICE, INC.

"Father," the girl said slowly, "I was asked to give you this." She handed him an envelope addressed to "John Mitchell." It was an enclosure from the long birthday letter Celia had received from her mother. "I want you to give the enclosed note to your father," Margaret Rogers had written. "Please don't mention it to anyone else."

Mitchell took the missive, glanced at it, and then handed it to Celia. "We're ready," he told the girl. "Do you have your wrap?"

Celia disappeared. Thus it happened that when a call came for Mitchell a moment afterward Evelyn Parsons was left alone. She looked quickly over her shoulder, then picked up the envelope.

Five minutes later Mitchell was back. He had forgotten the message. All that remained of Margaret Rogers' letter was a tiny pile of fresh ashes in the grate.

CHAPTER XXVII
Celia, holding the velvet wrap about her tightly, re-entered the drawing-room. Her eyes were bright. "Ready!" she called.

Evelyn Parsons was standing with her back towards the girl. She toyed with a tiny enameled automatic lighter. At the sound of Celia's voice she slipped the lighter into her evening bag, then turned—

"I'm ready," Evelyn said. She wore a satin coat which matched her evening gown. Both were turquoise. Evelyn's softly waving hair gleamed like spun gold. Her satin slippers, which were the same bright shade as her gown, had high rhinestone heels that twinkled with every movement.

She wore a chain from which hung a blazing diamond pendant, and on her arm were two diamond bracelets. No wonder John Mitchell could scarcely keep his eyes from her!

Perhaps the jewels jogged his memory. He drew a small box from his coat pocket. "Oh, Celia," he said, "I almost forgot!" He handed the object to the girl.

She took the box in her hand. It was a tiny white square. "Open it!" the father urged. Mrs. Parsons leaned forward curiously. Celia sprang the lid back. A perfect ruby flashed at them. It was set in a ring band, a small diamond on either side.

"Oh!" It was as much as Celia could utter. She started at the dazzling stone, then at her father. Suddenly she turned and threw her arms around him. She declared this was the most beautiful thing in the world, the loveliest birthday gift that she never could thank him enough.

Mitchell looked pleased. He told Celia to put the ring on her finger. Was it the right size? Yes, exactly. Neither of them noticed Mrs. Parsons, who had been trying very hard to look as if she didn't care. "You're enthusiastic. Now she tapped one foot nervously.

"It's a most beautiful ring," she said sweetly. "What a lucky girl you are, Celia, to have such a father—so generous and with such excellent taste! You're to be envied!" She paused a moment and then added, "but we mustn't forget your guests."

Mitchell looked at his watch. "No, no! Time to be on our way. We'd better start at once!" They went out to the car where Thompson was waiting, and a moment later they were driving uptown.

Celia leaned back happily. She felt this was the most exciting evening of her life. She had never visited a roof-dining-room. Visions of extravagant splendor presented themselves. The party was being given especially for her, and she was going to see Tod!

She had talked to him that day over the telephone. Apparently he was miserable. It had been a week since they had met, had he accused her of treating him badly?

Getty, crapped in her dreams, paid no attention to the conversation between her father and Mrs. Parsons. She was surprised when they reached the hotel.

An elevator whisked them upward and they stepped out on what was not a roof at all, but a handsomely furnished foyer. Celia and Mrs. Mitchell left their wraps in a black and gold dressing-room, then returned to welcome the guests.

The party was to include eighteen couples. It had not been easy assembling a suitable guest list in early August with almost everyone away at resorts. Mrs. Parsons had culled her country club set of all the young members. She was eager to show Mitchell how clever she was as a hostess.

Indeed she was succeeding. As so as Lisa Duncan and one or two others had arrived to join Celia, her father stepped back and devoted himself to Mrs. Parsons.

Celia caught sight of Tod Jordan. He was making his way directly towards her. She managed to turn from a group so that his first greeting would be for her alone.

Why—she had almost forgotten her handsome he was! "Tod!" She whispered his name softly. "At last!" There was only time for a quick devastating exchange of glances, as Celia was surrounded by newcomers. Her cheeks and eyes were glowing. She smiled, shook hands, knew that she would never remember all the names that were jumbled in her ears.

Others dined turned to look at the young people. To Celia's surprise, "roof garden" was just like old dining-rooms. The walls and ceiling were painted with modernistic splashes of color. There were wide open windows from ceiling to floor all about the room, revealing patches of dark sky, here and there a star, and other growing green things were only suggestion of out-of-doors.

An orchestra, famous throughout the nation wherever radio is known, was playing a melodious fox trot. Celia shot a quick, pleased glance towards Mrs. Parsons. She saw that Jordan was to be her right-hand neighbor. The widow smiled back.

Jimmie Webster was on Celia's left. He was extremely curious about the swimming accident and demanded the girl's attention for several minutes. At last she was able to turn to Jordan. "Why haven't you let me come see you?" he asked. "Well, I can't very well explain here. I do want you to come to me. You see, it isn't the same as when I was at Mrs. Parsons'—"

"No? What isn't the same?" "I mean I can't do the things I want to here in town. My grandmother has such old-fashioned ideas. You see I still sort of 'on approval'."

"We'll do it!" "I don't know!" "What were they to do that evening was plain. Lisa Duncan was best dressed. She had the first dance of her first living lesson. Celia at Jordan were obliged to postpone the conversation and join the group.

Later Celia had the first dance with Tod, but other partners claimed him immediately. She danced one waltz with her father, finding him a stiff but light-footed dancer. They circled the floor sedately and then he returned to her seat and rejoined Mr. Parsons.

She saw Jordan dancing with Lisa Duncan, and the fearful thought arose that if Kate intentionally "vamped" Lisa's admirers he might try to attract Tod. Kate looked so beautiful almost any man would fall ready victim to her charms. The thought was unbearable. Celia knew she could never hope to compete with Kate.

Horoscope

SATURDAY, JANUARY 30, 1932

Benefic aspects rule strongly to-day. It is a time to prepare for big enterprises and to push whatever business has been well started.

The sway appears to favor the making of new laws and should encourage legislation, especially memorable for safety and happy foretold.

A sign believed to clear the mental vision and to stimulate initiative in business and professional work. Changes in public sentiment toward men in high place are presaged by the stars and a better understanding of national affairs is foretold.

Under this direction of the stars weddings have the best possible forecast, which promises long partnership and little chance of divorce.

This Saturday night is read as highly auspicious for love affairs. Dances given while this configuration prevails should be especially memorable for safety and happy meetings with strangers.

Theaters and those who play in them should benefit under this rule of the planets, which presages triumphs for young stars.

Persons whose birthdate it is have the augury of a year of business perplexities that can be easily overcome if the mind does not wander toward romance and flirtation. Children born on this day probably will be highstrung and sensitive. The subjects of this sign are exceedingly clever.

George Alfred Townsend, 1841, author, and Walter J. Damrosch, 1862, noted musician and orchestra director.

RARE OLD BOOKS
SOLD FOR $61,000
New York, Jan. 28.—One of those brilliant assemblies which Manhattan can produce on occasion turned out yesterday evening for the most important rare book event in half a decade—the sale of part of the superb collection of the Marquis de Lothian at the American Art Association, Anderson Galleries.

Is Mother Love
Always Beautiful?

Dorothy Dix

Warns Against Blind
Affection

We All Admire Mother Love Extravagantly, but Why Don't We Demand That It Be the Intelligent Kind That Sees Blemishes of Body and Character And Corrects Them for the Good of the Child?

PROBABLY there is nothing else in the world that has been so glorified as mother love. Poets have idealized it in deathless verse. Writers have made the theme of innumerable heart-searching plays and stories until we have gotten so sloppily sentimental over it that it needs only a husky tenor coming a mammy song to reduce even the most hard-boiled of us to maudlin tears.

But, curiously enough, in thus exalting mother love we consider only the quality of it, never the quantity. We do not demand that the mother love at we admire so extravagantly shall be wise or even that it shall be a benefit to the recipient.

All that we ask is that there be an endless amount of blind, fatuous devotion of a mother for her children that makes her see them as snow-white swans, no matter what black buzzards they really are, and that causes her to believe that they never committed the crimes of which they have been convicted or, if they did, that somebody else is to blame for it, and that they are innocent victims of bad companions.

Now, undoubtedly, there is something strange and wonderful and incredible in mother love that causes an otherwise intelligent woman to regard a squirming little red-faced infant that looks like a cross between a cream cheese and a boiled lobster as an object of art that is worth preserving; that takes her hear music in its wails and that gives her the physical endurance and the divine patience to stand the dirt and noise and confusion of her offspring's childhood and the overbearing insolence and cock-sureness of her adolescence. Otherwise not one of us would be here. We would all have been drowned like puppies before we got our eyes open.

No one will dispute that it takes mother love in quantity supplies to rear a child, but all the same, whether mother love is a blessing or a curse depends upon the quality of it. For the wrong sort of mother love and especially when there is too much of it, can wreck the lives of youngsters more completely than malignity itself.

It is this hypnotic mother love that prevents a woman from ever seeing her children as they really are that is responsible for many of the human tragedies that we see all about us—men and women with defects of body or mind or character that might have been cured—if only their mother's affection for them didn't make her shut her eyes to their blemishes.

Tommy, who is knock-kneed or bow-legged, might have had his legs straightened, only that he looked like a Greek god to his mother. Johnny might have been saved from being a nitwit if only his mother could have brought herself to admit that he was under par mentally and needed special education. Sam might have been saved from being a thief and a hoodlum if mother had made him take his punishment for his wrongdoings instead of blaming the teacher because he didn't make his grades and getting furious with the neighbors for resenting his breaking their windows and stealing their shrubbery.

In virtually every criminal trial the pathetic figure that is brought forward to soften the hearts of the jury is the old mother who loves her son just the same, no matter how much he has beaten her and neglected her and robbed her of her poor little pittance nor how red his hands are with a fellow-creature's blood nor how many people he has held up and robbed.

And everybody sniffs into their handkerchiefs and says what a beautiful example of mother love it is, but we might better say what an illuminating example of what foolish mother love can do, for ninety times out of a hundred children are what their mothers make them, and if they go wrong it is because she has been too smothered in her love to see their faults or too weak and tender to correct them.

She has never made them do a thing they didn't want to do nor deny themselves a thing they wanted that she could get for them, and as a result when they are grown they know no law but their own desires and take what they want any way they can get it.

Another phase of the mother love that curses is the over-love that makes a woman want to keep her children perpetual babies, always tied to her apron string. She lives in dread of her children growing away from her, as she expresses it, and so she stunts their development. She keeps her children from marrying if she can, and if she can't she wrecks their happiness by always thrusting herself between husband and wife and making herself of paramount importance to her son or daughter.

She is never willing for her children to strike out in the world and leave her seek their fortunes. She would rather see them starve in miserable jobs than achieve fame and riches away from her, and when she sees danger of her leaving her she resorts to the coward's weapon of tears and reproaches and threats of dying and with this she slays their chances of success.

Mother love is beautiful or hideous, it makes or mars, according to its wisdom. Well might the babe in its cradle petition its fairy godmother to send it as the one supreme gift a mother who loves intelligently.

La Salle and the Taenca Indians

"La Chine!" If you know French, you will see those words the name China. Strangely enough, the name was given a house in eastern Canada!

Ruins of "La Chine"

During one journey to the great valley, LaSalle met some Taenca Indians. Members of this tribe made their homes from mud and woven rushes. The cabin of the chief was about forty feet square and its domed roof rose to a height of fifteen feet. Inside sat the chief on a bench, with three of his wives.

In addition to the chief and his wives, there were about sixty old men in the cabin, and they were clothed in robes woven from strips of bark. Each time the chief spoke, the old men shouted, "Oh, oh, oh!" This meant, "Yes, yes, yes!"

Taenca Indians gave worship to the sun. Near the home of the chief was a meeting-house, and on its roof were three stuffed eagles, their heads facing the rising sun.

LaSalle died in Texas, after a vain effort to reach the mouth of the Mississippi by crossing the Gulf of Mexico. (This story may be placed in "History" section of your scrapbook.)

Irrigation Plans In the Okanagan Area Extended

Canadian Press

Vernon, B.C., Jan. 29.—Irrigation districts serving the lands lying between the city of Vernon and Okanagan Landing have composed their differences with the city of Vernon and the Vernon Irrigation District. The city and the Vernon Irrigation District have agreed to do what is necessary toward clearing out the creeks flowing into Swan Lake, "to construct a crib dam at the junction of the south fork of B.K. Creek with Swan Lake Creek, to deepen the channel back from that point to the lake and to maintain the said work."

The Girouard, Tronson, South Vernon and Poynter water districts and communities are to improve the Swan Lake Creek channel south from the crib dam and to maintain it.

NEWS IN BRIEF

Permit for the construction of a brick service station building at 3103 Shelbourne Street, was taken out at the City Hall to-day by James Mulholland. The structure will cost about $600.

A florist's truck, owned by Woodwards, was turned on its side when hit by a railway engine in the C.N.R. yards at Point Ellice Bridge yesterday afternoon, according to a report to the police. The truck driver was unhurt.

Bank loans aggregating $200,000 were authorized yesterday evening by the Sanich Council, when the annual loan by-law was finally passed, with Councilor L. Hagan recording opposition to an increase above last year's loan of $175,000.

A decrease in the volume of liquor purchases by the public resulted yesterday in a "half-time rule" going into force for about fifty employees in the warehousing department and in the stores. They will be rotated in employment with a lay-off of two weeks in each month.

The reunion of the 103rd, C.E.F., Timber Wolves Battalion, will not be held this year. Every year for years a dinner and concert has been held by the residents under Major J. B. Spurgin. Next year it is hoped that these entertainments may be resumed.

Sanich will again pay 6 per cent interest on taxes paid in advance. The council yesterday evening renewed the pre-paid tax system, which has been in effect for several years. Sums of $25 or more will be credited with interest at the rate of one-half of one per cent for each clear month they are paid before the due date.

Mrs. G. C. Ford, 1236 North Park Street, reported to the police yesterday evening that her ten-year-old daughter had been knocked down by a "hit-and-run" motorist at the intersection of Douglas and Johnson Streets during the afternoon, bruising her legs and arms. She secured the number of the car.

The following delegates were appointed yesterday evening to the annual meeting of the Provincial Command of the Army and Navy Veterans in Canada, to be held in Ladysmith Saturday, February 6: Commodore T. Mayne, C. F. L. Money, A. H. C. Jones and G. Gardiner. The delegate appointed to the Armistice Period Committee was Commodore J. Boulton.

Enactment of a measure providing for the suspension of a motorist's driving license after an accident in which he is at fault until full damages have been paid by him, is being considered by the Attorney-General's department for submission to the Legislature. This is similar to legislation in Ontario and has the effect of making public liability and property damage insurance almost universal among motorists.

A meeting of the Rotary Spokes Club was held at the home of J. V. Johnson, 2744 Broadway Avenue, yesterday evening when a debate was staged between J. P. Watson, president, and W. F. Pinfold, and Samuel Armstrong and Charles H. French. The subject was "Resolved, that state ownership of all public utilities is more beneficial to society than private ownership."

Dr. George, a resident of Victoria, formerly a practicing physician of Calgary and Red Deer, has given a very fine collection of natural history specimens of bird and animal life, to the Calgary Museum. Covering a period of more than thirty-five years, Dr. George has collected Indian relics and natural history specimens, of the western provinces, also a large and interesting collection of photographs and pictures of great historical interest.

Police Commissioner Lewis W. Goddard was welcomed as a new member of the Sanich Police Commission yesterday evening, when the board held its first session this year. Reeve W. Crouch commented upon the notably pleasant character of Mr. Goddard's successful election campaign against ex-commissioner Charles E. King. Commissioner A. E. Seale recalled that a year ago similar friendly relations had marked Mr. Goddard's unsuccessful campaign against himself.

Two plate glass windows, about six by eight feet in measurement, were shattered when a furnace in the Fairfield Hotel exploded at 11:40 o'clock this morning. The windows were in a vacant room on the ground floor, and the building facing Cormorant Street and the concussion from the explosion broke them into thousands of pieces. A huge puff of black soot issued from the building, and a crowd of onlookers gathered immediately as fire engines rushed to the scene. No blaze was caused, however, and there was no one in the basement when the explosion occurred.

Members of Local No. 426, International Association of Machinists, at their annual meeting yesterday evening elected A. Wallace president of their group. G. Harberger was named treasurer. C. H. Lester recording secretary, J. Mulkar financial secretary, and E. Breckenridge, William McPaw and James Turnbull trustees. The meeting was featured by the presentation to James Hetherington of a special badge by the president for his fifteen years' membership in the organization. Following the business session a social evening was held. P. Elsmore won the prize for the bridge tourney.

Bandmaster Frederick Highfield of the Victoria Girls' Band has been engaged to play bassoon for the Vancouver Symphony Orchestra, and left to attend rehearsals yesterday and will be away two weeks. H. Rochon will conduct the band in his absence. Four cash prizes, donated to the Cloverdale Boys' and Girls' Poultry Club by the Provincial Department of Agriculture, were presented by department officials this week at Cloverdale School. The winners were: First, L. Hill; second, Jean Routley; third, R. Harris; and fourth, Robert James. The club was organized by Mrs. Arnold of the Victoria Women's Institute. Presentation of the prizes was followed by moving pictures of provincial poultry work.

Among the passengers sailing by the Ss. Empress of Japan to-morrow for Honolulu will be Mr. and Mrs. Boettcher and M. C. Barwise of Denver, Colo. They arrived here by the afternoon boat to-day from Seattle and registered at the Empress Hotel. Mr. Boettcher is in the brokerage business in Denver.

The case originally came before Judge Lampman, who gave a judgment against the Levy Estate. Richard Lowe, as counsel has charge of the defence for Buchanan Singh.

FIGHT IN NEW SOUTH WALES OVER SENATE
 David Maughan, K.C., Bound to London to Fight Premier's Abolition Policy

Bitter has been the legal fight waged in New South Wales over the determination of Premier John T. Lang and his radical Labor Government to abolish the Legislative Council of the state. The Legislative Council of New South Wales is the Upper House, and counterpart of the Canadian Senate.

As the result of Premier Lang's policy of ignoring the statute which calls for the submission of a referendum to determine the will of the people upon a question of this nature, the whole case will be reviewed by the Privy Council in London next April. In connection with the appeal to the Privy Council to restrain the Lang administration from proceeding with its policy leading to the abolition of the Legislative Council in New South

FLAG SALUTING FINDS SUPPORT

Army and Navy Veterans Think School Children Should Salute and Sing
 Esquimalt School Board Receives and Files Letter From Hinchliffe

In the opinion of Mrs. Sarah King, member of the Esquimalt School Board, it would be ridiculous to have children stand out in the cold to salute the Union Jack and sing the National Anthem. That is what she told the other members of the board yesterday evening.

Patriotism was all right in its place, but it should not be practiced to such an extent that the health of school children might be endangered. She favored having the exercises conducted under cover when temperatures were down and the weather disagreeable. Trustee A. T. Farley expressed the view that Esquimalt, as a naval and military station, should be particularly patriotic. The matter was brought up by a letter from the Provincial Department of Education informing the school of new rulings governing the patriotic exercises. It was reported teachers of Lamson Street School had observed the edict in spirit and would continue to do so. The letter was received and filed.

JAPANESE BOY Loses Out When Justices Divide

When the four justices sitting on the Court of Appeal divided two-to-two, shortly after noon to-day, the appeal of Munetake Samejima, Japanese boy, against the judgment of Mr. Justice Murphy of the Supreme Court to enforce his deportation to Japan, was declared dismissed.

C. H. O'Halloran, counsel for Samejima, claimed that as Mr. Justice Fisher had ruled out in the first place the deportation order served on Samejima, when he was found working in a mill instead of at his job of servant, for which he had been allowed to enter Canada, then Mr. Justice Murphy had no right later to sanction the same order after immigration officials had merely amended it.

NARCOTIC LAW TO BE TESTED

C. H. O'Halloran Claims Chinese Girl With B.C. Domicile Cannot Be Deported
 The sections of the Opium and Narcotic Drug Act providing for deportation of persons convicted of opium or other narcotic offenses, is to be tested in the courts here, as a result of the writ of habeas corpus obtained to-day from Mr. Justice Gregory, by C. H. O'Halloran, counsel for Sue Sun Poy, a Chinese girl, seized by immigration officers here and held for deportation on the liner Empress of Japan leaving Victoria to-morrow evening.

Mr. O'Halloran said it was planned to test the constitutionality of the law. He declared the law to be ultra vires and repugnant and inconsistent with the Immigration Act of Canada. Sue Poy, Mr. O'Halloran explained, has a British Columbia domicile, having grown up in Canada from the child she was when brought here. He claimed that to such a person the section of the Opium and Narcotic Drug Act or any deportation provisions in the Immigration Act could not apply.

Steve Hamas Injects New Interest Into Heavyweight Division

First U.S. College Heavyweight to Ever Get Anywhere in Ring

Loughran and Lomski Hit Down-grade Just at the Same Time

New Crop of Heavyweights Adopts Wild-swinging Style

THE HEAVYWEIGHT boxing situation was stirred up quite a bit when Steve Hamas, slugging college star, knocked out Tommy Loughran. Now it wouldn't be surprising if all the promoters want Hamas to fight Walker, or Sharkey or somebody, with the hope he'll survive and go after Schmeling. Hamas may turn out another Pirpo for color. He is the first college heavyweight who has ever got anywhere in the ring game. Also, the opening of a number of critics and fans in U.S. who are looking for a newcomer to bring the title back to America.

Hamas displayed plenty of ability in his bout with Loughran. He had the Philadelphia reeling from rope to rope, defenceless against his barrage blows. Loughran's left hand that was sharp as a rapier-thrust was only a lingering relic. His legs wilted under him. No longer would they carry him in and out in the old easy, graceful Loughran style. He tripped and stumbled time and again, like a baby learning to walk.

Just four years ago this month Loughran weathered one of the toughest storms of his career. Holder of the light heavyweight crown, he was matched with Leo Lomski, Aberdeen slinger, who had bottled his way into line for a title shot. Lomski sent a roaring right flush against Tommy's chin in the first round of their bout at New York. Loughran got up calmly at nine, the ghost of a silly smile flitting across his face.

Lomski came on again with an irresistible attack and Loughran went down again. Again Tommy got up at the count of nine. Punch, clouded, groggy, he carried on by instinct, part and thrust, dart in, face back and sidestep. The end of the first round found him in a bad way. He was still groggy as the second round opened but he managed to weather the storm and gradually his brain cleared. And as the clouds left Tommy's eyes, Lomski's chance was gone forever.

Strangely enough Lomski himself came close to the end of the trail the other evening in Oakland. Matched with a rising young heavyweight, Hans Birle, Lomski was knocked out. He, Aberdeen boy, has been campaigning in the heavyweight division for the last few months, but it is not yet over a man of Birle's ability, his days as a near topnotcher are numbered. Lomski fought here this winter but was up against a set-up, making it impossible to judge his real ability. It's a great fight against Loughran. Four years mean a great deal in a boxer's life. After four years, sometimes the clouds won't clear, and the legs and arms refuse to obey commands. It looks like both Loughran and Lomski are about through.

The so-called "dreadnaughts," the big heavyweights put in a class by themselves by Commissioner William Muldoon, New York, are out of the picture at present. A new crop of wild-swinging youngsters has crashed into the heavyweight picture. A point in favor of the newcomers is that they are in there swinging. Hamas, Earl Levinsky and Eugenio go after knockouts and take a chance of suffering the same fate themselves.

It may be a scientific, but it amuses the spectators. Schmeling is a hitter rather than a boxer. The rise of Max to the top may have caused the younger heavyweights to forget any idea of cleverness and to bore in with both arms flailing, striding and shanking were clever for big fellows and the bout at Miami was dull. Hamas and these other young huskies "shoot the works" and take a chance. Perhaps they will add some spiciness to the heavyweight division.

ROVERS TO PLAY JONES BROTHERS

Will Clash in Feature Senior Roller Hockey Fixture Tonight at King Rink

In their fight to remain in the running for the second half championship of the local senior roller hockey league, Jones Brothers will clash with the Rovers in this evening's feature fixture at the King Rink.

Both teams have made creditable showings against Burnetts and Jokers and are expected to give a good account of themselves. In the preliminary fixture, Rosebuds, one of the smartest squads in the intermediate division, will clash with the Jones Juniors at 7:30 o'clock.

Partington, Pete Tyson, G. Farmer, J. Carlow, Simmons, B. Carlow, E. Moore and J. Blackstock will wear the uniforms of the Rovers, while Harry Holmes, Ed. de Blaciere, Albert Pellett, Barney Barnwell, Johnny Unwin, Bush and Tommy Drysdale will line up for the Jones Brothers.

Get "Breaks" and Hand Leaders An Unexpected Bump

Boston Ends Losing Streak at Eleven Games by 4-to-1 Win Over Lester Patrick's Club; Bruins Get Two Lucky Goals; Rising Detroit Falcons Smack Chicago Down 4 to 2 in Rough Game; Nineteen Penalties Handed Out; Montreal Maroons and Canadiens Draw; Smith Draws Major Penalty

Toronto, Jan. 29.—After participating in eleven games without recording a single victory, Boston Bruins finally stumbled into the win column for the first time this year when they stepped into New York yesterday evening and handed the pace-setting Rangers a 4-to-1 reverse.

Bruins' triumph, however, was not the only surprise of the evening, as Detroit and Maroons both upset the dope by defeating Chicago and tying Canadiens, respectively.

Gar Wood Missed World Speed Mark By Tick of Watch

Detroit, Jan. 29.—Three one-hundredths of a second, the tick of a watch, or six-tenths of a nautical mile per hour—that is how far Gar Wood missed undisputed claim to a new world water speed record at Miami Beach, Fla., Wednesday. The figures are 110.785 statute miles an hour, was five feet, two and a half inches short of an undisputed world record. A nautical mile is 6,080 feet.

LONDON WINS BY SHUTOUT TO MOVE UP

Blank Cleveland 4 to 0 and Reach Third Place in International Hockey

Syracuse Takes Five Straight at Expense of Windsor; Pittsburgh Victors

Toronto, Jan. 29.—London Tecumseh were the only first-division club to improve their standing in a trio of games played in the International Hockey League yesterday evening.

While Tecumseh were shutting out Cleveland 4 to 0 in London, two other first-division, outburst Windsor and Syracuse, dropped close contests to Pittsburgh and Buffalo, respectively, and as a result the London entry moved into third place in the van of Windsor.

A second-period scoring punch which netted a pair of goals gave Syracuse Statists their first successive victory and a 2 to 0 verdict over Windsor Bulldogs. Although the border city entry were bolstered by the addition of Earl Robinson, leading scorer in the league last season, who was turned over to Windsor prior to the game by Montreal Maroons, Bulldogs were unable to score on the excellent work of Graham Teasdale and Downie were the marksmen for Syracuse, each netting an unassisted tally early in the second frame.

A-FAST GAME—In one of the speediest hockey fixtures witnessed in Pittsburgh this season, Jackets defeated the pace-setting Buffalo Bisons 2 to 1. Earning a two-goal margin on a pair of clever plays by Dunning and Doc Romnes, Jackets forced the play throughout the second and early third periods until Buffalo laid down a rugged offensive drive. Herbie Stuart kept Indian snipers off the score sheet with some excellent saves and as a result hung up his sixth shutout of the season. Dunning was the leader of the London attack, figuring in two goals while Groh and Hoffinger each scored once before the final gong.

London Tecumseh avenged their setback in Cleveland Tuesday when they returned to their home ice and rummed in two goals in each of the first and second periods to trounce Indians 4 to 0. Although Cleveland had many scoring chances in the first period, Herbie Stuart kept Indian snipers off the score sheet with some excellent saves and as a result hung up his sixth shutout of the season.

Claus Thunberg Is Handed Suspension—Helsingfors, Finland, Jan. 29.—Claus Thunberg, Finland's Olympic world champion speed skater, yesterday was disqualified for a year by the Finnish Skating Union for his refusal to go to Lake Placid for the Olympics and his "repeatedly unsporting actions tending to injure the sport of skating."

SENT TO LONDON—Springfield, Mass., Jan. 29.—The New York Rangers yesterday ordered Dick Benson, Springfield Indian forward, to the London team of the International Hockey League.

LARRY GAINS EARNS A DRAW

Engages in Vicious Fifteen-round Bout With McCorkindale at London

Pair Were Battling For British Empire Title; Many Hard Blows Landed

London, Jan. 29.—Larry Gains, Canadian negro, and Dan McCorkindale, South African champion, fought fifteen rounds to a draw at Albert Hall yesterday evening in a bout which was to have decided the heavyweight boxing championship of the British Empire.

A cheering crowd, numbering among its members Lord Londsdale and Lord Tweedmouth, greeted the two men as they entered the ring. It was decided the fight should go fifteen rounds instead of twelve, in order to comply with conditions set by the British Boxing Board's condition for championship bouts.

After a cautious start, both fighters strove to score a knockout, although the fight was a draw. The fight should go fifteen rounds instead of twelve, in order to comply with conditions set by the British Boxing Board's condition for championship bouts.

LAND HARD BLOWS—Dan Gagnered the Canadian with a terrific right to the jaw in the sixth and Gains followed with a similar blow. Gains' blows lacked sting as the slugging opened, but towards the end of the round he drove a left to McCorkindale's jaw that shook the big South African.

Larry drew three successive lefts to the jaw in the ninth and opened the eleventh with a rush, fighting with both hands. He retired, however, and Dan drove him into retreat, then the twelfth was the last round for McCorkindale, who waded in with smashing lefts to the face followed by a hard right to the jaw and a volley of lefts and rights to the body.

Both fought savagely throughout the thirteenth and fourteenth, trying their utmost to end the battle with a knockout.

Second period—No score. Penalties, Conacher (major and minor), Gagnon (major). Maroons, 2; Maroons, 2; 2:23, Conacher, LaRoche (G. Mantha), 1:12; 4, Canadiens, Wasmie (Lepine and G. Mantha), 1:12. Penalties, none.

Third period—No score. Penalties, Conacher. Overtime period—5, Canadiens, Joliet (Lepine), 4:50; 6, Maroons, Stewart (Smith), 2:0. Penalties, Burke, Stewart (major).

New York, Jan. 29.—The Boston Bruins broke their losing streak, which had dropped them to last place in the National Hockey League's American group, by defeating their old rivals, the New York Rangers, yesterday evening, 4 to 1.

After ten games without a victory, the Bruins came back with a fine exhibition of all-round good hockey and added almost all of the game's "breaks" to it. Of their four goals, only two were fully earned, and one of those (Concluded on Page 19)

Jackie Fields Has Brouillard Groggy And Regains Title

Shows Old-time Form in Lifting World Welterweight Crown From French-Canadian in Ten-round Battle at Chicago; Bell Saves Brouillard From Knockout in Sixth Round; Fields Fights Like a Master After Solving Brouillard's Style; Fans Contribute $28,000

Chicago, Jan. 29.—Jackie Fields has again caught up with the welterweight championship of the world, after letting it slip from his grasp.

The Los Angeles fighter yesterday evening regained the title won on a foul from Joe Dundee in 1929, by winning the decision in ten rounds over Lou Brouillard, young Worcester, Mass. puncher. Brouillard's tenure of office was brief, just about four months having passed since he punched the crown from the head of young Jack Thompson, Oakland, Cal., negro.

It was the first time since he lost the title to Thompson in Detroit in 1930 that Fields had made the welterweight limit, and his excellent condition brought him victory. He outboxed the Worcester French-Canadian after the third round, and from the sixth on, outslugged him as well.

Brouillard had the edge in the first two rounds, tearing into Fields with a savage body attack. Fields, however, required those two rounds and part of the third during which to solve Brouillard's southpaw style, and from then on, except for brief rallies by the champion, he was on top.

CHAMPION GROGGY—In the sixth it appeared that the title might change hands by a knockout when Fields clipped Brouillard with a right to the jaw. Brouillard's knees sagged, but he marched right into another right to the chin that sent him staggering to the ropes. Fields was on top of him seeking to land a finisher, but the bell sounded in time to get the champion out of trouble.

The verdict was unanimous, and after the surprise of seeing the widely-travelled title move again, the crowd of 10,253 spectators acclaimed the victor. The gross gate was more than $28,000.

Round One—The champion pumped lefts to the body and face, with Fields attempting to solve his southpaw attack. Brouillard ripped three lefts to the jaw, but Fields gamely walked into him without scoring. Fields connected with a pair of rights to the jaw. Brouillard then began to pump lefts to the head and body.

Round Two—Brouillard charged in close to punish Fields around the body. He kept on top of Fields for the first thirty seconds. Fields shot a right to the body and Brouillard complied with a right of the blow. Fields connected with a right uppercut as Brouillard tore in, and the champion crowded Fields to the ropes under a body attack. Fields crossed another right to the jaw and caught heavy punches in return.

Round Three—Fields was short with two lefts to the head and Brouillard slammed him around the body with both hands. He cracked Jackie with a left to the jaw as Fields went to the ropes. Fields drove a hard right to the jaw with Brouillard always charging in, centering his attack on the body.

Round Four—Fields speared the champion with two lefts to the face and Brouillard drove a left to the jaw. Brouillard backed Fields into a corner with a right and left to the jaw, and Jackie connected with a right cross to the chin. Fields swung two uppercuts that landed, and connected with another as Brouillard came tearing in. They were mauling each other at the bell.

Round Five—Fields connected with two lefts to the face and a right to the jaw. Brouillard charged forward driving his fists to the body. Fields began to force the fighting, landing a left and right to the jaw. Brouillard clipped Fields with a left to the chin. Fields landed two right uppercuts as Brouillard retaliated with punches to the body.

Round Six—Brouillard swung both hands to the body forcing Fields to the ropes. Fields began to outscore the champion at long range, with Brouillard piling up his points at in-fighting. Fields dropped a hard right to Brouillard's chin, out the champion to the ropes in close to inflict body punishment. Fields nailed Brouillard with a right to the jaw that staggered him and the crowd was on its feet.

Round Eight—Fields landed a right to the jaw and repeated with a high right to the head as Brouillard went to the ropes. He was forcing the fighting. Their heads crashed and Brouillard emerged with a cut over the right eye. Brouillard landed a left to the jaw and two rights and forced Fields through the ropes. Brouillard cracked Fields with a left to the jaw and followed with another, and a right to the body.

Round Nine—Brouillard fought desperately, smashing Fields to the head and body with a return. Fields appeared to be tiring under the pace and held on. Fields lashed out with two rights to the jaw and then shook up Brouillard with another right to the head. Brouillard scored with two lefts to the body. Fields cracked Brouillard with a right to the jaw that knocked him back on his heels.

Round Ten—Brouillard lashed out in mid-ring and landed two rights to the body. They traded punches to the head, and wrestled around the ring. Brouillard landed two lefts and rights to the jaw, forcing Fields to back into the ropes. They traded right to the body and Fields clipped the champion with two right uppercuts as the fight ended.

Other ten-round bouts to-night will pit Charley Reed, Duluth, against Joe Woods, California, and Vincent Paffie, Argentina, against John Rousseau, Canada.

Round Three—Fields was short with two lefts to the head and Brouillard slammed him around the body with both hands. He cracked Jackie with a left to the jaw as Fields went to the ropes. Fields drove a hard right to the jaw with Brouillard always charging in, centering his attack on the body.

Round Four—Fields speared the champion with two lefts to the face and Brouillard drove a left to the jaw. Brouillard backed Fields into a corner with a right and left to the jaw, and Jackie connected with a right cross to the chin. Fields swung two uppercuts that landed, and connected with another as Brouillard came tearing in. They were mauling each other at the bell.

Round Five—Fields connected with two lefts to the face and a right to the jaw. Brouillard charged forward driving his fists to the body. Fields began to force the fighting, landing a left and right to the jaw. Brouillard clipped Fields with a left to the chin. Fields landed two right uppercuts as Brouillard retaliated with punches to the body.

Round Six—Brouillard swung both hands to the body forcing Fields to the ropes. Fields began to outscore the champion at long range, with Brouillard piling up his points at in-fighting. Fields dropped a hard right to Brouillard's chin, out the champion to the ropes in close to inflict body punishment. Fields nailed Brouillard with a right to the jaw that staggered him and the crowd was on its feet.

Round Eight—Fields landed a right to the jaw and repeated with a high right to the head as Brouillard went to the ropes. He was forcing the fighting. Their heads crashed and Brouillard emerged with a cut over the right eye. Brouillard landed a left to the jaw and two rights and forced Fields through the ropes. Brouillard cracked Fields with a left to the jaw and followed with another, and a right to the body.

Round Nine—Brouillard fought desperately, smashing Fields to the head and body with a return. Fields appeared to be tiring under the pace and held on. Fields lashed out with two rights to the jaw and then shook up Brouillard with another right to the head. Brouillard scored with two lefts to the body. Fields cracked Brouillard with a right to the jaw that knocked him back on his heels.

Round Ten—Brouillard lashed out in mid-ring and landed two rights to the body. They traded punches to the head, and wrestled around the ring. Brouillard landed two lefts and rights to the jaw, forcing Fields to back into the ropes. They traded right to the body and Fields clipped the champion with two right uppercuts as the fight ended.

Other ten-round bouts to-night will pit Charley Reed, Duluth, against Joe Woods, California, and Vincent Paffie, Argentina, against John Rousseau, Canada.

Back into the ropes. They traded right to the body and Fields clipped the champion with two right uppercuts as the fight ended.

OLYMPIC WINTER GAMES WILL DRAW THOUSANDS

Lake Placid, N.Y., Jan. 29.—Six inches of snow, the prospects of more, and the assurance of Rear Admiral Richard Byrd that he will attend the winter Olympic games, have lifted Lake Placid's morale, a bit shaken during recent warm weather, several degrees.

The normal population of the village is 3,500 but a swarm of hotel reservations to-day, and a steady flow of visitors, brought forth the prediction that 5,000 winter sports fans will be quartered here during the games.

More than 300 athletes of seventeen nations will take part in the contests running from February 4 to 13.

TEAMS HOPE TO RESUME RUGBY PLAY SATURDAY

Two Senior and Three Intermediate Games Will Be Played, Weather Permitting

Although ground conditions were still bad to-day, the Victoria Rugby Union hoped to have its delayed schedule in operation tomorrow with two senior and three intermediate fixtures.

Fifth Regiment and J.B.A. teams are scheduled to clash in one of the fixtures at the Canteen grounds at 3 o'clock, while the Navy is billed to meet the Oak Bay Wanderers at Oak Bay Park at 3:15 o'clock. H.A. Tomlin is listed as referee for the first game and J. B. Acland the latter.

Should the games be played, Oak Bay Park will be the scene of a double-header. In the curtain raiser Canadian Scottish will meet the Wanderers in an intermediate fixture at 2 o'clock with Bill Darbyshire handling the whistle.

At the Toi Inlet grounds, Cyril Jones will referee the game between Brentwood College and the James Bay Athletic Association, while at Mount Toimie the game between the University School and the Fifth Regiment will be played under G. C. Grant.

In view of the absence of good fixtures here during the last few Saturdays, large crowds are expected at all games to-morrow.

The senior Bays will line up as follows for their game: Kennedy, Johnson, Latta, Dunn, Kinsman, McMullan, Brown, Murray, Sprinkling, Lemm, Shultz, Petticrew, Peard, Moses and Smith.

The following team will represent Oak Bay Wanderers against the Navy: Vaher, Mead-Robbins, Golby, Gann, Symons, G. Douglas, I. Douglas, Fanning, Dunsmuir, Hood, King, De Blaciere and Gilmore.

Wanderers' intermediate lineup will be chosen from the following: Ellis, Williams, Carmichael, Burgess, McConnan, Pangman, Acland, K. Patrick, Blaney, Stewart, Campbell, Dickinson, McGregor, Bank, Rogerson and Carson.

J.B.A. DANCE—Members of the James Bay Athletic Association, and their friends will gather in the clubhouse at the Gorge tomorrow evening for their weekly dance. Arrangements for the function have been completed by the committee for which Battalionino may have contracted previously.

Referee Lou Bauman stopped the fight in the third round, after Battalino had gone to the canvas three times. Bauman said Batt was not trying and had not been hit hard enough to be knocked down.

BATTALINO IS FINED $5,000

Former World Featherweight Champion Also Suspended For Wednesday's Fiasco

Fine Will Be Used to Reimburse 2,015 Customers; Miller Given Clean Record

Cincinnati, Ohio, Jan. 29.—Christopher (Bat) Battalino, former world champion featherweight, must pay a $5,000 fine and go into indefinite retirement because of his "no contest" fiasco with Freddie Miller, Cincinnati challenger.

The Cincinnati boxing commission suspended him indefinitely after a hearing yesterday and decreed his fine would be used to pay all expenses of the Wednesday night match, billed as a title affair.

Miller was given a clean record, but no claim to the title, which was declared vacant.

Out of Batt's fine, the 2,015 cash customers will be reimbursed.

The Hamilton, Conn., fighter told the commissioners his poor exhibition was caused by his strenuous effort to take off fourteen pounds for the bout. He failed by three and three-fourths pounds. He said his legs were weak enough so much he was unable to stand up.

The suspension will be effective in all states affiliated with the National Boxing Association, but the commission said, will not affect any bouts for which Battalino may have contracted previously.

New Westminster Royals Perform Here To-morrow

Canadian Champions Oppose Thistles In Province Cup Match

Defenders of Provincial Trophy Bringing Formidable Eleven Here for First-round Fixture Against Saanich; Aubrey Sanford Will Resume Position in Goal for Royals; Stoddard and Rimmer May Not Come; Thistles Announce Strong Line-up for Fixture; Game Starts at 2.15 o'clock

In the first round proper of the Province Cup series the Saanich Thistles and New Westminster Royals, defenders of the trophy, and present Canadian football champions, will meet at the Royal Athletic Park to-morrow afternoon. The match will commence at 2.15 o'clock and as this is the only football game scheduled in the city to-morrow a record crowd will no doubt attend. The game will be refereed by McMillan.

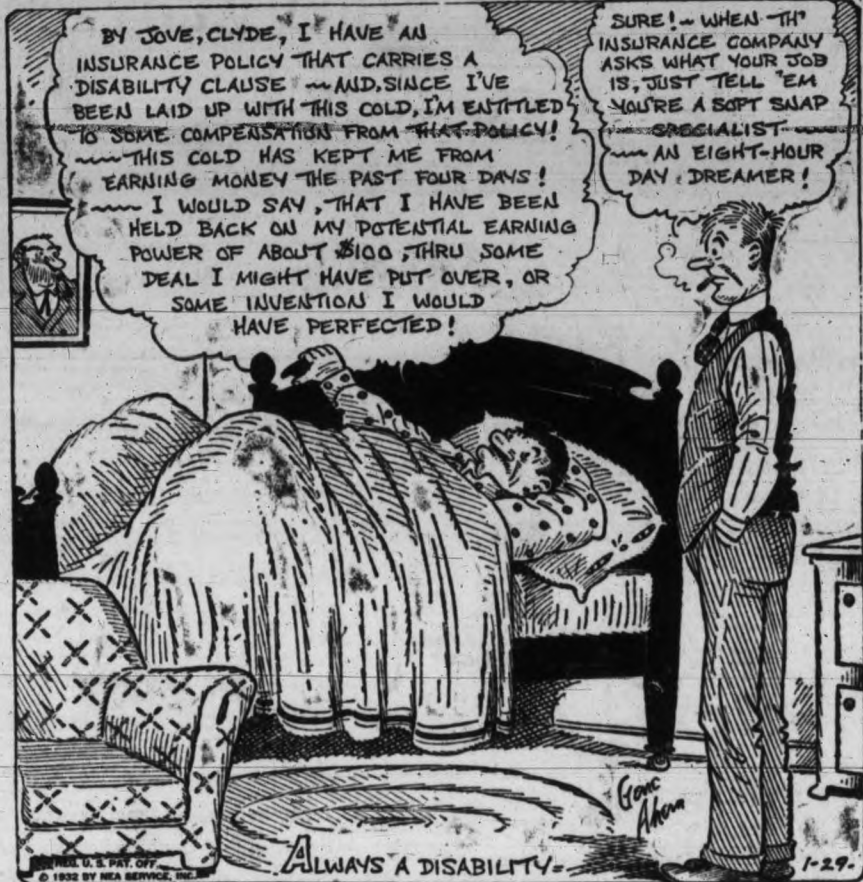

The Royals will be up against a team of hustling youngsters who are famous for their kick and rush type of football. They are always in the game and are never beaten until the final whistle. In their last two league matches the Thistles have shown to advantage and have taken for the local club to extend the New Westminster champions.

The Thistles announced their line-up for the match to-day. The veteran bridges will guard their nets. The full-backs will be Sammy Eaker and Wes Harper, a pair of good hefty kickers. On the half-back line will be Ronnie Williams, Joe Crowe and Speller. All three are young, fast and sure kickers. While they feed their wings well, Eddie Rogers will be at outside right, with Freddie Price at the inside position. The bustling Barney Burns will hold down centre-forward, while he will be flanked on the left by Gibbons and on the right by the Thistles' A. McMillan. This gives the Thistles a well-balanced team and one that should put up a stiff fight against the cupholders.

The Royals are expected to take the field minus two of their regulars, Haddie Stoddard and Les Rimmer. Stoddard is suffering from an injured hip and badly swollen arm, while Rimmer may find it impossible to get away owing to business reasons. However, the champions will be strengthened by the return of Aubrey Sanford, their regular goalie, rated one of the best net custodians in Canada. Sanford has been out of the game for some time owing to injuries, his place being taken by D'Easum.

Despite the loss of Stoddard and Rimmer the Royals will bring a strong team for the match. Anderson and Preston will fill the fullback positions, with Trotter, Russell and Delaney as half-backs. The forward line will be composed of Kerr, Stobart, Coulter, Turner and Todd. If Stoddard or Rimmer make the trip the line-up will be switched around somewhat.

ARRANGE HIGH RUGBY SERIES

Final Details For Competition For Russell Cup Being Worked Out

Coaches at the Victoria High and Oak Bay High schools are busy picking squads to represent the institutions in the annual Russell Cup series, which will be played early in February. The cup which has been fought for during the last two years was donated by Howard Russell, former teacher and student of the local High School. To date the cup has been won once by the school with Victoria-High taking the trophy in 1930 and Oak Bay last year. Conditions for participating in the series are as follows: Players must be under seventeen years of age and date of play must be under 150 pounds. The best two of three games decides the series. Coach Harry Smith will have to pick a squad from the junior players at the Victoria High as the majority of the senior squad players are overweight or over-age for the games. Prominent among the players seeking berths on the team are Ernie Bittles, fast forward and a boy well developed in the kicking game; Harold Price, one of the speediest performers on the senior squad; Bobby Ferguson, flashy halfback. It is quite possible Coach Ernie Cook will send some of his Cowichan Cup rugger out for the practices.

WINNIPEG ARE NOW AT TORONTO

Toronto, Jan. 29.—Bound for Lake Placid, where they will carry the Dominion's hopes into the Olympic hockey series, Winnipeg, amateur champions of Canada, reached Toronto yesterday. After a forty-five-minute workout at Ravina rink the squad showed surprising speed and smooth combination when they took the ice to stretch their legs after the long train journey from Winnipeg. Coach Jack Hughes hustled his proteges through a convincing practice and expressed confidence in the ability of the team to give a good account of itself at the Olympics. "We are not claiming to have a wonder team, but the material is there and our record is enough to warrant the trip to the winter games," he said. "We have a strong defensive system and it helps our cause a lot, and the front line can skate stride for stride with the fastest players in amateur hockey. "The entire squad of fifteen players are in the pink of condition. Hinkle, regular defence player, is rounding into shape again after being off for some weeks with a dislocated shoulder. Winnipeg will line up to-night in an exhibition game here and will play in Niagara Falls against the senior Ontario hockey association team of that city Monday night.

RIBBONS GOING TO VANCOUVER

Local Girl Hoop Champions to Play Return Game Against Woodward's To-morrow

Blue Ribbons Senior girls' basketball team, which recently won the Victoria and District League for the fourth time, will travel to Vancouver to-morrow to meet Woodward's senior girls in a return match at the Y.W.C.A. gymnasium. The Blue Ribbon team has made a much more impressive showing this season in the local league, having only lost one game to Harmony by one point. They will soon meet up-land teams for the Island championship. According to reports, senior women's basketball in Vancouver is away above previous standards this season, partly due to the falling off in the "A" competition. Spurling and Witches, the two leading teams in the Senior "A" division are not conceded to have the strength of Woodward's or B.C. Telephone in the "B" division. SWAMPED RIVALS Since their appearance in Victoria, Woodward's swamped the crack Telephone team, 24 to 11, and are now leading the Commercial League by a comfortable margin. There is a strong probability that Woodward's and Blue Ribbons will meet in the finals in March for the B.C. Championship, so Saturday's match will be of great interest. The following players will make the trip: Berta Feden, Torie Rennie, Mary Feden, Mary Wilson, Ruby Bethell, Biddy Boyce and Eleanor Trotter. Coach, J. Wenzel, and A. LeMarquand, coach, will accompany the team.

Will Expand Pro Lacrosse League

Montreal, Jan. 29.—The International Professional Lacrosse League will be expanded to a six-team league next summer, it was decided at the annual meeting here yesterday. The teams will be Maple Leafs and Tecumseh in Toronto; one team in New York, playing at Madison Square Garden; one team in Boston and one team in Montreal. Last year four clubs began the league's operations. Toronto Maple Leafs, Cornwall Colts, Maroons and Canadiens. It was announced at yesterday's meeting that applications for franchises had been received from Toronto, New York, Brooklyn, Boston, Baltimore, Philadelphia, Detroit, Chicago and Syracuse.

South Africa Scores 265 Runs For Seven

Touring Cricketers Bat All Day in International Match With Australia

Taylor Puts on 78 and Mitchell 75; Grimmett in Good Bowling Display

Adelaide, Australia, Jan. 29.—The fourth meeting between the cricket teams of South Africa and Australia during the former's present tour opened here to-day. Australia won the previous three games and the rubber. Five international matches will be played. South Africa batted all day and at the close of play had put on 265 runs for the loss of seven wickets. South Africa lost their first two wickets for only forty-five runs. The batsmen were painfully careful and it required an hour's play before lunch before sixty runs were scored. Subsequently Mitchell and Taylor put on a bright partnership which yielded 120 runs in ninety-six minutes. Mitchell scored seventy-five in an invaluable innings, hitting seven fours. Taylor got seventy-eight.

GRIMMETT BOWLS WELL
Clarence Grimmett, Australia's star bowler, had a profitable spell, capturing the wickets of Taylor, Morkel and Viljoen for the addition of only six runs. Cameron then played a real captain's innings and scored fifty-two before he, too, fell before the dominating Grimmett. Vincent and McMillan played out time.

EDDIE MUNSON MEETS FRISBIE

Two Clever Heavyweights in Eight-round Bout Here; Brooks Tackles Ray

To-morrow evening's wrestling card at the Tillikum gymnasium will feature two eight-minute round bouts. In the first match Eddie Munson, clever Australian, will go up against Ray Frisbie, while the second battle will bring together "Rocky" Brooks, local heavyweight, and Cowboy Ray. The first bout will start at 8.45 o'clock. Brooks and Ray are meeting in a rough and tumble affair. They will wrestle bare feet and everything will be allowed except the strangle hold. The Munson-Frisbie bout should also be interesting as both are young, clever and fast.

Vancouver, Jan. 29.—Taking his first fall in the fourth round with a series of head locks, Bob Kruse, Portland, defeated Tommy Thompson, San Francisco, here yesterday evening in the main event of the local card. Kruse's second fall came in the fifth round with a straight fall after Thompson had missed a flying arm lock. Thompson secured the first fall of the bout in the third round with a series of flying arm locks. Kruse weighed 198, Thompson 205.

Kansas City, Jan. 29.—Abe Coleman, Los Angeles, won the feature match of a wrestling programme here yesterday evening when he butted heads with Charles Fischer, Butternut, Wis., who was rendered unconscious and unable to continue. Coleman weighed 203 pounds and Fischer 170.

Dr. D. M. Nigro, following an examination in the dressing room, said Fischer was suffering from a concussion of the brain, but he did not believe it would prove fatal. Fischer was taken to a hospital. Coleman, rendered groggy by the head-on collision, flung himself on Fischer for the fall after forty minutes of grappling. Everett Marshall, 247, La Junta, Colo., defeated Pat McClary, 247, Los Angeles, who was thrown out of the ring after twelve minutes, thirty seconds of wrestling and was unable to continue.

Syracuse, N.Y., Jan. 29.—Jim London successfully defended his wrestling title here yesterday evening by downing Dick Davacourt, San Francisco, with an airplane spin in thirty-two minutes.

Toronto, Jan. 29.—Ed "Strangler" Lewis, St. Louis, world title champion, had an easy time in winning a straight fall verdict over Jim Gilchrist, Oklahoma, in the feature bout of a wrestling show here yesterday evening.

Junior Footballers Will Attend Smoker

Players and officials of local junior football teams will gather to-morrow evening at the Elks Club for a smoker. A fine musical programme is being arranged and Percy Payne will occupy the chair. Several speeches will be given by leading soccer officials in B.C. The affair will start at 8 o'clock.

Varsity Calls Off Game With Local College

Eight inches of snow over the frozen surface of Brockton Point, Vancouver, yesterday caused the University of British Columbia rugby officials to cancel their arrangements with Victoria College for a game in Vancouver to-morrow.

McMillan said the College boys would be willing to meet the Varsity team any time up to three weeks before the examinations, providing a fixture could be arranged so as not to interrupt the intermediate schedule. But such a match would have to be played in Victoria, he said.

MOTHERWELL WILL TACKLE QUEEN'S PARK

Meet To-morrow in Feature Match of Second Round of Scottish Cup Soccer

Glasgow, Scotland, Jan. 29.—While the general run of matches in the second round of the Scottish Football Association Cup competition, to be played to-morrow will likely not be productive of great struggles, one tie is outstanding. That is the engagement at Hampden Park between Queen's Park and Motherwell. Queen's Park are the great amateur club of Scotland, while Motherwell are leading the Scottish First Division, and look to be headed for the championship. They were the runners-up in the cup competition last season, being beaten by Celtic after a replay in the final. Queen's Park have given notice they are going to make a bold bid for the cup this year, as they beat St. Mirren, a strong aggregation, in the first round.

The cupholders, Celtic, have not been going very strongly in league football lately, and may find their strong Second Division opponents, St. Johnstone, more than their match, particularly as the game is being played on the latter's grounds at Perth. Rangers, the league champions, and with Motherwell and Celtic, one of the strongest sides in Scotland, should win easily over Raith Rovers at Kirkcaldy.

JUMBO DAVIES GIVEN A BOUT

Local Fighter Will Meet Les Baines, Tacoma, in Six-round at Seattle

Nate Duxman wired to Jumbo Davies to-day, stating he had matched him up with Les Baines, Tacoma, in one of the six-round feature bouts of Austin and Bishop's boxing show at the Seattle Crystal Pool next Wednesday evening. Doc Snell and "Wildcat" Carter will top the card.

Jumbo and the Tacoma flash have already met in three hectic bouts which resulted in draws so it is expected these two battles will put on a thrilling bout. During the last few weeks Baines has been engaged in main events bouts at Tacoma and other northwest cities and has not lost a single decision. The local boy has been training hard since he returned to the city after the Carter bout last week.

Buffalo Majors Beat St. Louis

St. Louis, Jan. 29.—The Buffalo Majors stopped the four-game winning streak of the St. Louis Flyers yesterday evening and held them to a tie, 1 to 1, in an American league hockey game that went overtime. Failure of the Flyers to win left them trailing one game behind the Kansas City Plamors, leaders in the circuit. Morrison scored for Buffalo and Kendall for St. Louis.

HENRY VIII Were KING TO-DAY

and Tip Top Were His Majesty's Tailors

Henry VIII, often described as England's most handsome monarch, was very particular about his personal appearance. He spent large sums of money to get befitting clothes—yet more often than not was dissatisfied with what his tailors produced. How different if this illustrious king were alive to-day. He would be amazed at the smartness and tailoring of Tip Top Clothes. For only a fraction of what one of his royal costumes cost he could buy a complete Tip Top wardrobe—individually custom tailored in such splendid manner that even Henry would be satisfied.

You, too, can enjoy the luxury of fine custom tailoring without paying the penalty of high cost by coming to Tip Top Tailors, where the finest British wools in latest weaves and patterns are yours to choose from at our one and only price of $27.60.

Substantial Gains In Wheat Prices Firmly Close

Canadian Press
Jan. 29.—Wheat—Firmly close. The market was largely local with some covering while some support was coming in from Chicago. There was no export business. Colby, Kansas reported temperatures five below zero with no snow covering. Colby is in west central Kansas. Other areas in the southwest were also reporting frosts. The fear was also expressed that present cold spell in Western Canada may extend to the southwest as zero temperatures. There was considerable spreading in evidence, selling the May and buying the more deferred futures. Offerings increased on the extreme bulge, but were easily absorbed with local cash very quiet, with practically nothing changing hands. All spreads were unchanged. There was no change in the flour situation. Liverpool cables state that Argentine wheat is being offered freely with inquiry small. Broomeham estimates 22 per cent of the Australian surplus has already cleared. The intensity of the cold wave in the southwest and developments in the war-like situation in the Far East are the chief factors and are apt to bring in a better close of business, while checking any selling on the soft spots. Winnipeg closed 1 1/2 to 1 3/4 higher. Coarse Grains—These markets were just as quiet as ever in so far as actual prices were concerned. Receipts with strength in the wheat. Oats—Closed 1/2 to 1/4 higher. Barley—Closed 1/2 to 1/4 higher. Rye—Closed 1/2 to 1/4 higher. Flax—Closed 1/2 to 1/4 higher. Liverpool due 1 1/2 higher on Winnipeg. Rheumatism Goes Wollen Joints Vanish

How to End Rheumatism in Less Than a Week

If you suffer from torturing rheumatism, sore muscles or stiff joints, it's because your system is full of the dangerous poisons that cause rheumatism and make you helpless. What you need is RU-MA, and need it right now. All it does is get rid of the poisons, and it does it with ease. RU-MA acts on the blood, stomach, kidneys and liver. And drives the dangerous rheumatic poisons from the system through the natural channels of elimination—it eases pain, the stiffness, the swelling, the sore joints, the aching muscles, the torturing pain. That's why RU-MA succeeds where external remedies and the ordinary drugs give only temporary relief. McFarlane and Vancouver Drug stores say no matter how long you have suffered from rheumatism, RU-MA—it must completely end all rheumatic agony. You get your money back. (Adv.)

Catarrh Causes Head Noises And Deafness

Great European Remedy Opens Up Clogged Nostrils and Relieves Catarrhal Deafness

Few people realize what a serious disease catarrh really is. If neglected, the damage it does is often irreparable. Deafness, lung troubles and head noises that drive the sufferer nearly mad are frequently due to this insidious disease, whilst neglect of catarrh often makes its victim into a worn-out rundown catarrhal wreck. What is catarrh to-day may soon be something far more serious. It is more than a trifling ailment—more than a disgusting disease. It's a dangerous one. Unchecked it frequently destroys smell, taste and hearing, and slowly but surely undermines the general health. If you have catarrh go to your druggist and get an ounce of Parmit (Double Strength). Take this home and add to it 1/4 pint of hot water and a little ordinary sugar. Take a tablespoonful four times a day.

Catarrh being a disease of the blood, the only possible way to relieve it is by treating the blood itself. Drive the catarrhal poisons from the system by treating the blood, and the disease itself must vanish. Parmit as proved successful in so many cases because it acts directly upon the blood and mucous membranes.

To be able to breathe freely, to hear clearly, smell, taste and arise in the morning refreshed and strong, and with the head and throat free from blemish, are conditions that make life worth living. For your own sake give Parmit a trial, and with your whole system crying for relief you should start the treatment now. (Adv.)

"INSANE YEAR" WARNING GIVEN BY PROFESSOR

Year Will Be Known For Its Insanity If Nations Do Not Agree, Says Carrothers

Lecture on World Economics Given to University Extension Group

The year 1932 would be known to history as the "insane year" unless something were done in the way of international co-operation to relieve the world economic troubles, Professor W. A. Carrothers, of the University of British Columbia, told a University Extension Society meeting yesterday evening in Victoria College at the conclusion of an address on "The Bank for International Settlements."

A series of financial shocks which had struck the chief countries of the world in turn, he said, had brought about a "crisis of confidence." The total result had been the collapse of world credit, which not only threatened to throw countries back on international exchange, but reduce trade drastically, make countries far more dependent on national resources and reduce the standard of living.

The danger, the speaker emphasized, was immediate. If it were not faced and remedied within the next two years, the people of the world would probably have to discard their automobiles, radios, expensive furniture and other things which they had come to think of casually but which they might find were not essential to life.

"We cannot say what is going to happen to the world at large because the issues are so confused and unsettled now. But the fact remains the necessary international co-operation is not forthcoming. The Lausanne reparations conference, which was to tackle some of the world's major financial problems, has practically been sidetracked. National jealousy and the playing of politics by the great powers are still going on. The disarmament conference opens next week under the most unfavorable circumstances."

REPARATIONS "If there is not international co-operation aimed at her financial reconstruction, Germany will not be able to pay one cent on her reparations. If there is not such an international policy, it is hardly possible that any war debts will be paid. This might quite likely be the case with Great Britain; many of her creditors have been unable to pay his debts."

In discussing whether war debts and reparations would be cancelled or defaulted, Professor Carrothers said cancellation was only a remote possibility because it was too important for politicians to use certain political crises in order to get votes at the elections which were probable in the near future.

To advocate cancellation would not be a nationalistic enough gesture especially for a creditor nation, he implied. Default was the only alternative.

If as a retaliation against default, a country would impound the defaulting country's credit in international exchange, this would lead to a greater dependence on national resources, the speaker considered, and would bring about a lowering of the standard of living. This, he added, was happening even in British Columbia to-day.

A major operation to facilitate world credit was vital, Professor Carrothers emphasized. The removal of trade restrictions and the elimination of customs barriers, he said, were essential to secure an export surplus by which to meet their obligations, the extension of credit, the prevalence of peace and a more earnest desire for international goodwill must be brought about.

GERMAN SITUATION The speaker outlined the events that led to the breakdown of the world's credit machinery. The 1929 collapse on Wall Street led to a loss of confidence. Not only did it have an unsteady general effect on the whole world, but it hit Germany particularly hard.

After Germany's financial collapse in 1923, private capital in the countries of the world became interested in a German reconstruction programme and advanced credits to Germany in dustry. These credits not only helped to raise Germany up but were the means by which she could produce a definite exportable surplus and make reparations payments. Then suddenly came the Wall Street orgy. At a time when Germany's economic wounds were about to close up, all the spare cash in the world, a good deal of which was being loaned to Germany, was suddenly diverted to Wall Street speculation.

Germany's reconstruction efforts met a severe setback, he said, and she could not get enough credits. But the worse was yet to come for her. The Wall Street crash sent prices to the bottom and encouraged high protective tariffs. Germany's budding industrial activity, from the proceeds of which she hoped to make a financial comeback and meet her obligations, was paralyzed. In the opinion of Professor Carrothers, the German situation was now worse than before Germany ever tried to make a repayment payment and before a single commercial credit was advanced her. For governments could always strike bargains in the matter of their debts, but when private debts were defaulted it means great and direct hardship for private business.

After the loss of confidence owing to the Wall Street crash, the speaker continued, financiers refused to extend long-term credits or to invest in foreign securities. As in Great Britain, an unfavorable situation was met in some cases by the exporting of gold.

stated a short while ago that Germany could not pay.

"BANK HAS FAILED" "This placed the matter beyond the Bank for International Settlements," said Professor Carrothers. "The Bank has failed; particularly in the last six or eight months, because of the worldwide fall in prices and the subsequent disruption of world trade and credit, particularly in relation to Germany. Moreover, the Hoover moratorium went beyond the letter of the Young Plan and the Bank for International Settlements, one of whose main tasks was the settlement of the reparations war debts tangle. This annoyed France, which has always insisted on the letter."

The Bank for International Settlements, which had done good in assisting Austria and Germany last summer, could, with its advice and help and the goodwill of the nations, still do much, the speaker asserted. Though the great central banks had imposed certain decided limitations on it so it would not become a business rival of them, it had valuable functions, which were to facilitate international finance such as the payments of reparations and war debts, to keep the countries of the world on the gold standard, to assist backward countries economically, industrially, financially, to keep international finance free from politics and to help in maintaining world peace. How far it had succeeded or failed in the last few months in all these functions could be gauged from a study of present conditions.

The Bank for International Settlements, Professor Carrothers explained at the beginning of his address, was a late development from the post-war financial chaos and the effort to restore order. The Treaty of Versailles had been primarily a political document. An economic settlement was also needed. Financial reconstruction through the co-operation of the central banks of the world was planned and the Bank for International Settlements was set up at neutral Bielefeld because of jealousy among the great financial centres, became a sort of central bank's bank or a world bank. Like the League of Nations, the Bank was no stronger than its members. Like the League, it depended on a unitary policy and on the goodwill of the members. It was likely to be weakened by national intrigue and its very existence would be endangered by a major war.

The approaching failure of the Dawes Plan in 1930 and the need for the readjustments of reparations had led to the more lenient Young Plan, the central feature of which was the Bank for International Settlements. The new plan operated in much the same way as the Dawes Plan, except that the officials of the Bank for International Settlements could interfere in Germany's internal affairs. But the operation of the Bank, as the speaker explained later, was thrown out of gear by the economic and financial developments that occurred.

BINETALISM Asked to say a few words on binetalism, Professor Carrothers remarked that the importance of silver in relation to the present depression was greatly over-emphasized. Some people thought that if silver were monetized, a country like China would immediately start buying Canadian and U.S. goods wholesale, which, of course, would not be the case.

With regard to the possibility of adopting silver along with gold as a standard of value, the speaker said that theoretically it was quite possible, but practically it was "absolutely impossible" and useless even if it were adopted. There was no reason why certain countries could not hoard and "corner" silver as they were gold now. The solution of the present financial and economic difficulties depended on something far more than gold or silver; it depended on international economic co-operation.

A further question to face if silver were adopted, Professor Carrothers continued, was at what ratio silver would be placed. Its present market ratio to gold was 70 to 1, but silver advocates wanted something like 16 to 1 ratio. The speaker presumed the profits resulting from the monetization of silver would go to the silver producers; it was they in any case who were behind the present silver movement for the monetization of silver would in the last analysis be merely a subsidy of the silver industry.

great financial centres, became a sort of central bank's bank or a world bank.

Like the League of Nations, the Bank was no stronger than its members. Like the League, it depended on a unitary policy and on the goodwill of the members. It was likely to be weakened by national intrigue and its very existence would be endangered by a major war.

The approaching failure of the Dawes Plan in 1930 and the need for the readjustments of reparations had led to the more lenient Young Plan, the central feature of which was the Bank for International Settlements. The new plan operated in much the same way as the Dawes Plan, except that the officials of the Bank for International Settlements could interfere in Germany's internal affairs. But the operation of the Bank, as the speaker explained later, was thrown out of gear by the economic and financial developments that occurred.

BINETALISM Asked to say a few words on binetalism, Professor Carrothers remarked that the importance of silver in relation to the present depression was greatly over-emphasized. Some people thought that if silver were monetized, a country like China would immediately start buying Canadian and U.S. goods wholesale, which, of course, would not be the case.

With regard to the possibility of adopting silver along with gold as a standard of value, the speaker said that theoretically it was quite possible, but practically it was "absolutely impossible" and useless even if it were adopted. There was no reason why certain countries could not hoard and "corner" silver as they were gold now. The solution of the present financial and economic difficulties depended on something far more than gold or silver; it depended on international economic co-operation.

A further question to face if silver were adopted, Professor Carrothers continued, was at what ratio silver would be placed. Its present market ratio to gold was 70 to 1, but silver advocates

Author's Letter Bought By Baron

Canadian Press

Paris, Jan. 29.—A letter written in Greek "anti-Catholicism" by the French author, Francois Rabelais, royal librarian, who founded the College de France, realized 75,000 francs at an auction here. The letter formed part of the collection of the late Henry Fatio de Geneva. The purchaser was Baron Henri de Rothschild.

A letter signed by Bonaparte, as an artillery officer, sold for 24,000 francs and 2,300 francs was paid for an autographed manuscript of three pages by Alfred de Musset, French poet.

TO ATTEND SESSION

Calgary, Jan. 29 (Canadian Press).—George W. Webster, House leader of the Liberal group in Alberta Legislature, whose resignation was rumored because of ill-health, has recuperated sufficiently to attend the forthcoming session of the Provincial House scheduled to start February 4. At a meeting of the Calgary Provincial Liberal Association yesterday evening, Mr. Webster, who represents this city in the Legislature, announced he would attend the session. It is expected he also will resume his duties as House leader. Mr. Webster underwent a serious operation at Rochester, Minn., recently.

MUCH EXPECTED OF CONVENTION

Emergency Session of Union of Municipalities May Save Great Sums

Sessions to Be at Victoria City Hall; R. R. F. Sewell, Clerk

"The most important session of the Union of British Columbia Municipalities has been held in recent years," was the description applied by Reeve William Crouch to the emergency convention, to be held in Victoria next month, when the matter was brought before the Saanich Council yesterday evening.

The council was asked by the executive of the union to release R. R. F. Sewell, municipal clerk, from duties in Saanich during the sittings of the union in Victoria, in order that he might act as the official clerk of the convention. The council agreed to the request.

The convention is expected to take place in the council chamber of City Hall, where special accommodation will also be provided for committee rooms. The city's offer to house the convention was received by the union executive with great appreciation, the Saanich council was told.

THREE DAYS HERE

The proceedings of the emergency convention are expected to continue for at least three days.

Reeve Crouch reported that many of the municipalities found it difficult to provide for representation at the convention, but they were almost all certain to be represented, it being realized that expenditure of around $100 at this time might be the means of saving each municipality thousands of dollars. The representatives of Saanich will be Reeve Crouch and Councillors Denis Hoare and W. F. Somers, with Councilor Fred Borden as alternate.

SWEETS TURNED SOUR. Councillor Hoare commented: "Practically all the major new taxes imposed in recent years have been introduced as devices whereby the tax on land could be lowered. Only on such grounds could these impose win public toleration. There was the liquor profits. We used to get half, but that has been cut down to one-third. Our percentage is now only a fraction."

"Then there was the amusement tax, that has gone the same way, into the pockets of the province. There was a time when the motor licenses gave the municipalities ninety-five per cent of the revenue. Those days are also gone. Reeve Crouch added: "There is this Jones one-per-cent tax. That was originally proposed 'just to relieve taxes in municipalities of burdensome school costs.' Eventually we were given only $500,000 of an estimated revenue of $2,000,000. And now we are told that we are not to get that much."

RHUBARB GETS LOWER EXPRESS

Reduced express rates on rhubarb shipments to the prairies have been granted by the railways, it is announced by the markets branch of the Provincial Department of Agriculture. The rate for carloads, minimum 20,000 pounds per car, from Mission and Matsqui to Calgary, Edmonton, Regina, Saskatoon and Winnipeg will be $2.50 per hundred pounds from February 1 to April 20. The added privilege is given of two unloadings in transit at $6 each. McIntosh Red apples have been off

SNOW GREETS SHIP DOCKING FROM HONOLULU

Australia Passengers Shiver on Arrival of Ship Here Yesterday Afternoon

Young Passengers Excited as They See Snow For First Time

From Australia and New Zealand, where it is summer now, the South Seas and Honolulu, where it is always sunny, the motorliner Aorangi docked at Victoria yesterday afternoon in the midst of a flurry of snow. Passengers and members of the crew shivered when the ship arrived at William Head and they saw white patches of snow on the Sooke Hills. The flurry was soon over, however, but it provided two small boys from Australia with their first glimpse of snow. They were greatly excited and remained on deck to catch the big white flakes.

Capt. J. F. Spring-Brown, commander of the liner, reported a good three-week voyage from Sydney. For the last three days the weather had been rather cold and rough, he said, but the ship was able to make good time. She was more than twelve hours ahead of schedule.

There were only sixty-seven passengers in all classes aboard the Aorangi yesterday. Of these, thirty-five were in the first cabin, nineteen in the second and thirteen in the third class. Fifteen passengers bound for the United States left at this port and were rushed to the inner harbor to board the steamer Princess Marguerite, which had been held for them and which brought them down to Seattle. A number of the passengers were returning from winter vacations spent in the Hawaiian Islands.

Among the passengers aboard were Rev. C. F. Pierce, late headmaster of the Wanganui Boys' College in New Zealand, en route to England with Mrs. Pierce; Mr. and Mrs. Blake Wilson, prominent residents of Vancouver returning from Honolulu; Dr. E. W. Harman and J. H. Dupre, of the Colonial Sugar Company of Australia en route to Port Rico to attend the annual convention of sugar technologists; C. E. Lloyd, assistant secretary of the Greenwhich Seamen's Hospital, en route to England with Mrs. Lloyd; Mr. and Mrs. J. A. McDonald of Vancouver, returning from Honolulu; David Maughan, K.C., prominent Sydney barrister bound for London to attend a Privy Council appeal where he will represent the New South Wales Legislative Council; J. D. Cameron, well-known lumber merchant of Vancouver, returning from Honolulu with Mrs. Cameron and his daughter.

ON WAY TO SEATTLE

The Aorangi docked at the Rithet pier at 4:30 o'clock and proceeded to Vancouver shortly after 6 o'clock. She arrived in Vancouver after midnight and passengers disembarked at 7 o'clock this morning. The liner will remain in Vancouver until next Wednesday when she will sail on her out-bound voyage to Honolulu, Suva, Auckland and Sydney, calling at Victoria in the late afternoon and remaining for two hours before proceeding to sea.

CUTTER SAVES LIFE OF MAN

Dashes 150 Miles in Alaska Waters and Doctor Performs Operation in Ship's Hospital

After winning a race with death over a 150-mile course in Alaska waters, the cutter Talapooa, United States coastguard mercy ship, was on her way to Juneau yesterday with L. Simon, wireless operator of the Navy, isolated radio station at Sopsstone Point, aboard.

Coastguard headquarters in Seattle received a dispatch from Sopsstone Point, near Cape Spencer, Alaska, that Simon was in a dangerous condition as a result of an acute attack of appendicitis.

Comdr. C. H. Dench of the Talapooa, based at Juneau, was instructed to proceed with a doctor to the isolated navy station at top speed. The Talapooa left Juneau at 5 p.m. Wednesday on its own lines in order to serve the people of Canada efficiently, he continued, in a comparison of expenditures on capital account with its privately owned competitor.

Then, painting the picture of a group of undernourished railway company side by side, Sir Henry told the audience of the life blood that had to be pumped into these lines that he came the Canadian National railway in order to function efficiently. The choice between a gradual lapse into complete insolvency or the building up of an effective and efficient machine, the National system management had chosen the latter course.

WAIT WITH CONFIDENCE

His only quarrel with the royal commission was that it was a transportation system, was that instead of being appointed last year, it should have been appointed forty years ago. Referring to the commission, he said: "I believe it will suggest useful things to be done and perhaps a remedy." He praised the make-up of the commission and said: "We may as well wait patiently and with confidence for their report."

Sir Henry paid a compliment to the National system's board of directors, stating the men were spending all their skill and knowledge on their important work.

"This is a time when Canada needs co-operation, support and courage, and not criticism that can be construed as destructive," he went on. The present period differed from other periods of depression in the world's history, only it was purely economic rather than military or social. It would end slowly but surely, as others had ended.

"We have simply got to assess our facts correctly and get proper perspective of the situation," he said.

Sir Henry ended with an appeal for united support of all who were bearing the burden of state and industry at the present time regardless of political and social differences.

EMMA DOCKS FROM SOUTH

Came in Yesterday Evening From California Ports With Fair Passenger List

With a good list of passengers for this season of the year the Pacific Steamship Company's liner Emma Alexander docked at the Rithet pier yesterday evening at 10:15 o'clock from San Diego, Los Angeles and San Francisco. She proceeded to Seattle at midnight and reached the Sound port at 8 o'clock this morning.

Among the passengers who left the liner here were: A. W. Smith, G. W. Searle, Mr. and Mrs. G. Shaw, Miss Helen Twissleton, Robert O. Wogan, Myles Williams, Miss A. Young, Miss Mae Young, Mrs. Katherine O'Connor, Mrs. Matilda Girard, Harold B. Phillips, Stuart V. Jacobs, Joseph Girard, Leon P. Girard, Mr. Y. Aivazoff, Mr. and Mrs. Willis Bindley, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Boyer, J. B. Elliott, A. M. Fisher, Mr. and Mrs. J. Hewitt, Robert Heron of San Francisco, who will sail from Victoria to-morrow for the Orient aboard the S. Empress of Japan, Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Haver, Mrs. F. Junis, Miss Minnie McGibbon, E. McLeod, E. H. McCredy, Mrs. J. McLeod and Dr. and Mrs. H. B. Rogers and their son, Henry, of Chemainus, who are returning to their home up-Island after spending several months at southern California resorts.

With a large list of passengers, including many people going to the Hawaiian Islands for the balance of the winter, and Richard Barthelme and his wife, off on an Orient tour, the Canadian Pacific liner Empress of Japan will sail from Victoria to-morrow evening about 6 o'clock for Honolulu, Japan, China and the Philippine Islands. It will be Capt. Samuel Robinson's last trip, as when the liner returns to Seattle, Vancouver and Alaska, he will retire from the sea.

The Empress of Japan will leave Vancouver in the morning at 11 o'clock and will reach the Rithet pier shortly after 4 o'clock. She will have about 400 passengers, including several Victorians who will board the liner at this port. A large party of Seattle people en route to Honolulu will come over to Victoria to-morrow to join the ship here before she proceeds to sea.

This voyage to the Orient, the Empress of Japan will be put in the British drydock at Hongkong for her annual overhaul. She will be in the basin for three weeks.

FIRE!

Now, why the blazes can't Victoria merchants have fires if they want to? Why can't we have nice fires like Vancouver? Why do Victoria firemen put fires out? If it wasn't for fires they would be out of a job.

Why do they nose around looking for gasoline, coal oil, waste paper or anything that would start a good fire? We pay them for putting fires out, don't we? Well, how can they put them out if they won't let us start one? Vancouver started in the fire business in 1886. They have had many beautiful fires since then, not the least being the exclusive Ladies' Store of J. W. Taylor, who had stock to burn. Mr. Taylor is now in hospital, and all stock saved from the fire has been bought by us from the adjusters at 37c on the dollar.

The stock consists of high-class Ladies' Coats, Suits, Dresses, Underwear, Hosiery, etc., some in perfect condition and some slightly scorched or water damaged. Taylor's price tags are still on each garment, along with our Fire Sale price, which is so ridiculous that you'll have to laugh!

The fire alarm rang loudly, The Fire Chief grabbed the phone. "Fire! Fire!" shrieked a voice, "It's the worst I've ever known!" "Quick, the address!" the Chief called out.

"Ah, that I cannot tell. It's April first to-day, Chief, And you'll find the fire in—Hades!"
